Throne Room In the Vatican, Where Pope Receives Visitors

Photograph by American Press Association, 1911.

FEW travelers go to Rome without seeing the outside of the Vatican, the magnificent palace that for hundreds of years has been the residence of the head of the Roman Catholic church. The Vatican stands on ground that was once occupied as the gardens of the Emperor Nero. Pope Symmachus first built a residence there in the early years of the sixth century. Nicholas V (1447-55) began a systematic policy of improving the Vatican, which has been followed by his successors. The palace is now a series of buildings covering nearly fourteen acres and containing about 1,100 rooms. The throne room, pictured above, is where the pontiff holds formal audiences, and this room has in past years been seen by notable persons from all parts of the world.

Rid Yourself of Unnecessary Burdens.
 Don't bear unnecessary burdens. Burdens of a bad back are unnecessary.

Get rid of them. Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad backs; For lame, weak and aching backs; Lots of grateful endorsement to prove their worth.

C. S. Howard, 1614 W. Webb St., Pendleton, Oregon, says: "For fifteen years I had a great deal of trouble from a dull pain through the small of my back and left side and during the past year there was numbness under my shoulders. I was unable to lie comfortably on my back and I was bothered a great deal by too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. After several well-known remedies had failed to help me, I took Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved all my trouble. I am grateful to this remedy for its good work."
