LIBRARY PLANS MATURE READ for PROFIT

NUCLEUS OF LIBRARY TO COME FROM INDIVIDUALS.

Carnegie's Aid in Building House and City to Keep Up, Is Plan.

Hundreds who lament the lack of library facilities here are spurring the prime movers in the plans now set in motion, to keep hammering at the project until the actual start has been made, even though it be in a very small one. Nothing elaborate is planned for in the beginning and the nucleus of the library is to be contributed by the prime movers with the aid of scores of other individuals who are interested in a public library. Once—by the special subscription route—the nucleus has been subscribed, and the library commission put in action along lines prescribed by the statutes of the state, the commission can solicit and obtain aid from Carnegie's library fund, and call upon the city for a fraction of a mill levy for upkeep after the library has been commenced.

The scheme is so plausible and has so solid a foundation that there seems to be no chance for failure. The start has been made and library friends agree that it has been the best possible start and in the precisely correct direction and route.

The city council last Wednesday adopted the resolution asked for by the large list of men and women taxpayers who are behind the movement, and Mayor Richardson will appoint the commission of nine men who will proceed to work a successful campaign.

West Going to Baker.

The Farmer

more so than any other business man, requires the services of a bank, if he manages his farm in a systematic way. While he has no need for a set of books in which to keep a record of every transaction made, yet, during the course of a year he must pay out large sums of money for various purposes, and a record for future reference is highly important. Merchants may fail to give a receipt for cash, a neighbor may not recall the payment of money owed, but the farmer who pays his obligations by check has written evidence of such payments which any court must recognize. In the same way he has a record of monies received by the deposit entries on his bank book.

To the farmer, who desires such a record for his business, we extend an invitation to open an account with this bank.
