WAS MARRIED 11 DAYS WHEN GUNSHOT KILLS GROOM

GIRL-WIFE FOUND KISSING CORPSE HYSTERICALLY

Former Oregon City Girl 11 Days Ago Married to Spokane Grocerman Says She Accidentally Killed Her Husband—Police Hold Her in Jail Pending Investigation.

Los Angeles, Nov. 17.—Unable to give a connected account of the tragedy because of her emotion, Mrs. Nicholas Saraceno, an 11-day bride, is being held by the police pending an investigation into the shooting of her husband in their apartments today. She said she was unpacking their trunks on arrival from Spokane where Saraceno was a grocerman when she accidentally pulled the trigger of a revolver when he told it was unloaded. The charge entered the brain. Neighbors found her kissing the body hysterically.

When neighbors arrived Mrs. Saraceno swooned.

She was formerly Miss Jessie Buckley of Oregon City. She is beautiful and apparently aged 19. The husband was about 37.

Saraceno was making arrangements to open up a grocery store in the downtown district. The couple had been singing a few minutes before the tragedy.

Last Horse Show in the Garden.

New York, Nov. 17.—New York's 27th annual horse show, which is to open tomorrow, will have more than usual significance, for it will be the last of these famous gatherings in the Madison Square Garden. For a sentimental reason, if for no other, the management has planned to make the show this year more brilliant than any of its predecessors in order that the farewell to the old home will literally be made in a blaze of glory. One feature that will contribute largely to the success of the event is the imposing array of prizes that have been offered, their total value being fully $40,000. But what will add as much as anything else to the success of the show will be the array of foreign military officers who will compete with officers of the United States army. Three American army officers, one English and one Canadian officer will judge the military events. The Americans are Lieut. Col. David S. Stanley, quartermaster's department; Captain J. D. Long, cavalry instructor at West Point, and Major H. J. Allen, of the general staff. Lord Decies who recently married Miss Vivien Gould, will represent the English army and Col. William Hendrie will represent the Canadian forces.

PACKERS ALERT FOR LOOPHOLES

OPINION THAT MAY DECIDE MATTER WANTED.

Issues Indicate Much-Wanted Decision Will Be Forthcoming Soon.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Fighting to save J. Armour and nine other millionaires meat packers from jail term which menace them for alleged violation of the criminal section of the anti-trust law, Attorney Mayer held the stage center in the United States circuit court today when the case was resumed.

He attacked the contention of the government that the writs of habeas corpus obtained by the packers were void, as he said the packers had previously surrendered to a United States marshal.

Attorney Shehan wanted the packers' attorneys to agree for purposes of record, that the packers had asked their bondsmen to surrender them. The defense refused to do this. Judge Kohlsaat told the defense they would have to have all argument on the writ in this afternoon. This will give the government a chance to argue and may possibly get an opinion handed down by Monday.

Bernard Baker says pressure was brought on shipbuilders and capitalists to withdraw from the independent company.

HUSBAND FEEDS FAMILY WELL BUT CRUELTY ASTONISHES COURT

Privation and hardships endured by a faithful wife and seven children under the iron hand of a genuinely mean husband and father were told before Juvenile Judge J. C. Henry today when the first of a series of actions against the man whose name is J. R. Bumgardner and the story of his car-like rule about his poverty-stricken home near the stockyards has astonished the officials. His arrest came about last night when J. C. Kilpack, field agent for the Portland Boys and Girls' society investigated the report that an 11-year-old boy had been driven from home. He and Truant Officer Faulk found conditions as reported to him by neighbors and not only had the youngsters been driven from the near-resemblance to a parental roof but the other children were found to entertain a terrific fear for the man whom the officials call a brute in every sense of the word. The wife found it necessary to call police protection after the investigators had left orders at the home that the man send the children to school next Monday morning. Policemen went to the home last evening in response to excited calls for help—Bumgardner was reported to be on the verge of doing bodily harm to the wife and children. When arrested he had brass "knucks" in his possession and this afternoon information will likely be filed against him for carrying concealed and dangerous weapons.

He was given a hearing before Juvenile Judge Henry this morning and was as pitiful and anger provoking as anything could well be. Knowing full well that his terrible anger would invoke revenge later for what she was saying, the mother of seven and soon to be the mother of the eighth, told in faltering tones of her suffering and the mortal fear her children entertained for the husband. She said that during the past three years the children have scampered from the room when he came in; they have been beaten and she herself had been struck in the face by the man during several of his attacks of anger which he admitted he could not control; she told of having sawed woods in the mountains last summer, of her coming to La Grande and living in a one-room log shanty near the tracks where two beds, the cook stove and dinner table occupied one dingy room and of the tent where her daughters and sons slept at night.

It was brought out that the man is not a drinker nor averse to work; and thereby develops a contingency which the officials are not ready to deal with. If he is held in jail on the charge of carrying concealed weapons his family will not have the aid of his hourly. There is no authoritative information that the boats will be sent to China but they are hastily coaling and supplying which is causing the rumors.

The cruiser Cincinnati was dispatched for the orient yesterday, and great activity is noted in naval circles here. Orders have been received to have every vessel on the coast placed in readiness for service and the work of getting the light draft boats, the Denver, Annapolis and Cleveland, in readiness indicates the government expects it might need them in the Chinese river.

Shanghai, Nov. 17.—Rebel leaders denounce Yuan Shi Kai for accepting the premiership from the throne. The vanguard of delegates to the revolutionary convention are arriving and it is said they plan to make Nanking the capital of the country. The new movement, it is said, will be a replica of the United States. It is reported that rebels are within 14 miles of Nanking and desperate fighting is still going on.

wages which as a rule he freely gave as far the trifling sums went, and if allowed to go free there seems no question but that the reign of terror in the dilapidated home will continue with harrowing and increasing ferocity. The problem arising is a serious one and Mr. Kilpack is giving his years of experience vent in solving a solution with the aid of the local officers. People who come into contact with the affair say they would urge the woman to seek divorce and with the law's good right arm keep him away from her home and children. The children have been ordered to school Monday. The oldest is 16, the next 15, the next 11, the next nine, the next seven, the next four and the next three. Starvation is not the family's most serious enemy for it was admitted at the hearing that the flour larder is filled and potatoes aplenty stand in the one-room shack—the terrible brutishness of the man that has brought the family into the law's toils and it seems that the officials will fight the case to such an issue that the woman and her children will be freed from the sufferings and privations incurred by the husband during the past three years. What the woman has suffered is beyond the imagination of the most vividly imaginative.

Navy Aids in Dedication.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 17.—The beautiful new home of the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association, the gift of Mrs. Thomas J. Emery of Newport and Cincinnati, as a memorial to her sons, Sheldon and Albert Emery, was today formally dedicated in the presence of a most distinguished company. The building, which contains a large auditorium, library, gymnasium, baths and other features of an up-to-date clubhouse, was erected at a cost of $250,000. It occupies a conspicuous site on Washington Square, in the heart of the town of Newport. The dedication exercises were held in the auditorium this morning. William Sloan, chairman of the international committee of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. presided. Mrs. Emery delivered a brief address of presentation and Major-General Leonard Wood, representing President Taft, responded. The army and navy's appreciation of the gift was abundantly proved by the presence at the exercises of several thousand sailors and marines from the Atlantic battleship fleet and many soldiers from Fort Adams and the other military posts that guard the entrance to Narragansett bay.

Greatest Interest Centers at Portland and Madison Contests.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 17.—Thousands of followers of the colors of Yale and Princeton are pouring into New Haven for the game which will award gridiron honors to one or the other university tomorrow. Hotels, clubs, fraternity houses and dormitories have been thrown open to the visiting classmen and graduates. Every train from east and west is bringing its quota of enthusiasts, and it is already apparent that the Yale stands will hold a record breaking crowd tomorrow. The Yale-Princeton football game has been an annual event continuously since 1876, with the exception of the year 1898, when no game was played. Of the total number of games Yale has won 20 and Princeton nine, while seven games resulted in a tie score.

Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 17.—Not since Wisconsin severed football relations with Michigan some years ago has so much interest been manifested in a gridiron contest here as is shown in the game between Wisconsin and Minnesota tomorrow, which will virtually decide the western conference championship for the season. Fully 15,000 spectators, including big delegations of alumni of both institutions from all over the west, are expected to fill the stands when the referee's whistle calls the rival elevens to battle. That it will be a contest well worth seeing is regarded as certain in view of the season's records of the two teams. Local sentiment favors the chances of the Wisconsin team though it is freely acknowledged the Badgers will have to put up a hard fight to hold their own with the Minnesota players. Minnesota and Wisconsin have met regularly on the gridiron since 1890, with the exception of the year 1906. Minnesota has 11 victories to her credit and Wisconsin eight.

5 PERMANENT JURORS CHOSEN

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGES CLEAN JURY BOX TODAY

FORTY MORE VENIEMEN ARE ORDERED COLLECTED

Two Carpenters, Rancher, and Orange Growers Constitute Those Already Chosen as Jurymen in McNamara Case—Both Sides Exercise Many Peremptory Challenges.

Hall of Records, Los Angeles, Nov. 17.—A decided sensation marked the exercising of the peremptory challenges in the McNamara trial when selection eliminated Clark McPasadena bank cashier who had been like a permanent juror. When the shower of peremptories were over two permanent jurors had been selected. They were J. B. Sexton, a ranchman and real estate man, and William Andre, a carpenter. This makes five permanent jurors. The prosecution has five peremptory challenges left, and the defense 11.

The state eliminated McLain and Willett Brunner, a member of the brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, Alexander Grigling, a Grand Army veteran who participated in the fight against Fredericks in the last election. The defense got rid of Major Kenyon, an admirer of Burns and a magnate, Jacob Lansing, a fruit grower, C. A. Heat, an Englishman who might be biased against Irishmen. As soon as the two new permanent jurors were selected and sworn the work of qualifying seven additional jurors began. As there are only two of seven in the venire, Judge Bordwell ordered another panel of 40 to appear tomorrow.

Permanent jurors are Robert Main, a carpenter, F. D. Green, a rancher, Byron Lisk Miller, J. B. Sexton, orange growers, and William Andre, a carpenter.
