POPE RAILS AT MASONIC ORDER

CALLS IT MALEVOLENT SECT. AND HATING GOD.

NEXT POPE TO BE ITALIAN; CHOICE IS CONFIRMED

Nineteenth Cardinal Named in Secret and Confirmed—American Prelates Are Given Their Titles—Pope Plays for Peace in Spain—Finds Solace in Love for the Church.

Rome, Nov. 27.—Just prior to the consistory meeting which ratified his recent selection of 18 cardinals, Pope Plus announced the 19th name—secret—had been selected and he also was ratified.

The new additions bring the total of the sacred college to 64 and as Italians have a slight majority, it is practically certain the next pope will be Italian.

Addressing the consistory the pope characterized the Masonic order as a "malevolent sect, hating God and Christian order," and closed his address by praying that disaster might be averted from the church in Spain.

The new cardinals will be formally invested with the red hat Nov. 30.

Titles Announced. Farley's title will be Bishop of Santa Maria, Sopra Minervi; O'Connell's, Bishop of San Callisto church and Falconio's, Bishop of Santa Maria in Alacoeli.

The pope also reviewed the past year in the church, referring incidentally to the "impunity with which the protestants sects opposed the church openly in Rome."

RATE QUESTION A HUGE ISSUE

INTERIOR TOWNS, SUFFER THROUGH LATE RULING

PUGET SOUND VICTORY IS DETRIMENTAL TO INTERIOR

La Grande Among the Towns That Will Suffer Manifest Damage to Shipping if Some Action Is Not Taken Immediately to Prevent New Rates Becoming Effective.

Nov. 27.—(Special)—The interstate commerce commission in the so call coast rate case is in accordance with press reports, and is what the Portland and Puget Sound interests claim for, a most serious situation confronts those interior cities interested in their commercial and industrial development.

While manifestly unjust to say that 50 cents will buy 100 miles of transportation from Portland or Seattle but only 75 miles from Pasco, La Grande or other interior points, it must be remembered that the commission was ruling upon what was before it and the interior towns made no showing in the case.

The principle of the interstate commerce act is equality but the burden is upon interested parties and communities to protect their rights, the same as in any other cause.

It is beyond controversy that the relative adjustment of freight rates determines the commercial growth and development of any community and unless active and concerted measures are promptly instituted by the interior towns to make a showing to the commission before the recent order goes into effect, the disadvantage will soon appear in the discouragement to manufacturing and commercial pursuits at interior cities.
