NEW HATS.

The Scheme That Won Them and the Way It Was Worked.

A man who used to be in politics and was a constant borrower found himself in need of a new hat, but he couldn't find anybody who would lend him a cent.

Finally he went to an acquaintance and said: "I want to borrow $50 for five minutes."

"You can have it if you will put up a couple of fingers for security."

"Nix. Now, I've got a scheme. You lend me the fifty and you needn't let me get out of your sight. If you do I'll stake you to a new hat."

Mystified, but curious, the acquaintance agreed to this, and the two repaired to a prominent hat store.

"Wait a minute," said the adventurer and left his backer doing sentry duty on the sidewalk.

Picking out the most important looking personage in the store, the politician went up to him and said: "I am So-and-so of the — district. I have come to pay for two hats for which I have given orders on you to two of my constituents."

With that he flashed a fifty dollar bill.

There was a scuffling around, a search of books and a reply that no such orders had been presented.

"Just look out for them, will you?" said the district leader, waving the big bill, which was hypnotic in its way, for the clerk bowed low and said, "Yes."

Half an hour later two orders were presented and two hats left the store. —Chicago Post.

Familiar Quotations. One of the most familiar quotations from the Bible which are not to be found there upon research is "The lion lying down with the lamb." The spirit of the reference is correct enough, but turn up the passage in Isaiah and you will find: "The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fattening together." The popular mind has condensed the zoological miscellany, and to the incorrect version alliteration has no doubt contributed. —Exchange.

Denmark's Outdoor Theater. Denmark has probably the finest natural outdoor theater in the world. It is situated in the royal deer park about six miles out of the capital. There the avenues of mighty trees serve as wings and background to a stage fronted by a beech encircled slope that forms a perfect auditorium. Eight thousand people can be accommodated at every performance.

The Limit in Close Bargains. "Over in my county," said the talker in the hotel lobby, "we have a thrifty merchant, a bachelor, now getting along in years, who is noted for driving close bargains. He is straight as a string in money matters, but a very close harvester of the coin. He pays all his bills inside the thirty day limit in order to get the cash discount. The other day, meeting his favorite nephew, he said, 'Andy, you've been a good young man, and I intend to remember you in my will.'"

"That's nice of your uncle," said Andy, "but I'm having somewhat trouble now, and if you could advance me something it certainly would be helpful."

"Here was the opportunity of the uncle, always on the lookout for a bargain, so he said, 'Suppose I give it all to you now, how much of a discount will you make me?' —Indianapolis News.
