WHITMAN GAME THRILLING ONE

REYNOLDS AND ENDBERG HOME TO SPEND WEEK-END.

Big Baker Player Not in Game Yesterday—Contest Interesting.

FOOTBALL SCORES YESTERDAY.

- La Grande high 11, Elgin high 0
- Baker high 5, Nampa 5
- Pendleton 48, Heppner 0
- O. A. C. 5, Whitman 3
- Washington U. 30, Pullman 6
- Multnomah 16, Oregon 6

La Grande people attending the O. A. C. Whitman game yesterday say the contest which resulted 5 to 3 in O. A. C.'s favor was exceptionally interesting. O. A. C. scored a touchdown on an inside kick to Robertson, who, with Reynolds for interference, went over for a touchdown on a short sprint. At one other time O. A. C. lacked a foot of a touchdown. Niles, the premier fullback of the Whitman team, was the brilliant star for Whitman, carrying the ball most of the time himself. He scored a drop kick, also.

Reynolds and Enberg Home.

Two of the O. A. C. eleven were in the city this morning for a few minutes when Quarterback Charles Reynolds came home to spend the weekend with his parents and Enberg the stalwart from Baker, passed through La Grande. Enberg did not play yesterday because of his work here. Reynolds will return to O. A. C. probably Sunday.

Saved His Wife's Life.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infalible for coughs and colds, it's the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, In-grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. A Des Moines man had an attack of muscular rheumatism in his shoulder. A friend advised him to go to Hot Springs. That meant an expense of $10.00 or more. ### DEBATING NEXT VENTURE.

M. of O. Turns Its Attention to Forensic Affairs Hereafter.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Dec. 1.—(Special.)—With the close of the football season the gods of Brain and Brawn are deposited at the University of Oregon. For the next four months the votaries of Debate and Oratory will be undisturbed in their offerings. The death knell of the former gods was sounded last Monday evening when 20 striping met in wordy combat over the question of the judicial recall. The forum was gory at the close, and there were thumbs up for ten and thumbs down for ten others.

And now these ten whose names are the squad, from which will be chosen the six men who are to uphold the honor in debate of their 'varsity again honor in debate of their 'varsity against Utah, Washington, and Stanford; Carlton Spencer, Cottage Grove; Vernon Motschenbacher, Klamath Falls; Earl Jones, Newburg; William Dunlap, Portland; Leon Ray, Eugene; David Picett, Prineville, Peter Crockett, Pendleton; Herbert Lombard, Eugene; Ralph Moores, Salem; William St. John, Eugene.

The question for all three debates is "Resolved, that judges should be subject to the recall." The two final try-outs to pick the Oregon teams will be held December 5 and December 12. The date for the Utah debate is Friday, January 19, and will be held in Eugene. The date for the triangular debate, with Washington and Stanford, is March 15.

CONCEIT OF BARBADOS.

A Mighty Colony Is "the Little England of the Tropics."

None of the great nations of the earth is half so proud of itself as the little colony of Barbados, a mere speck in the Caribbean, which calls itself "the little England of the tropics."

Alone of all England's West Indian isles, Barbados has belonged to England ever since it was first colonized by white men. It has never been conquered by the enemy, as the others have been. This fact naturally gives the Barbadians a good conceit of themselves and indeed makes them just about the proudest people on earth.

When, just before the Crimean war, England was hesitating whether she should attack Russia, the Barbadians sent this message to the cabinet:

"Go ahead. Don't be afraid. Barbados is behind you."

King George was offered an asylum by "little England" when Napoleon Bonaparte proposed to invade England. "If you were driven from England," the Barbadians wrote, "come here. You will be safe with us to protect you."

When England was suffering her worst reverses in South Africa the Barbadians were not worried. They knew that if matters really reached a crisis "Barbados would go in and finish the business," as one of their newspapers seriously put it.

KANAA BURIAL GROUNDS.

Bolivia's Fearsome Valley of the Shadow of Death.

There is a valley in Bolivia, South America, which might well be called the Valley of the Shadow of Death. It has been inhabited for an indefinite period of years by the Kanaa Indians, who are kindred to the various South American tribes and number now only a few hundred souls.

That they were once a very powerful tribe is indicated by the condition of the land which they as a tribe still inhabit. One cannot travel any distance through their land without coming upon the old and forsaken burial grounds of the Kanaa dead. These places cannot be called graveyards, for the bodies are not buried, but rather placed upon elevated platforms, wrapped in the garments of death and bound to the crossbeams that they may not be displaced.

In one of these burial grounds there will be probably fifty high skeleton platforms, and on each will lie from three to five of the Kanaa dead. The air in that part of Bolivia is very pure and preservative, for it is one of the highest plateaus of the continent, although Kanaa valley is just a little below the plateau's height. A traveler passing through that land at night and by moonlight would be awe-stricken at the gloomy vision those graveyards present.

Won by His Wit.

On one occasion a dress rehearsal at His Majesty's theater was prolonged till the small hours of the morning. The company grew very weary, particularly a gentleman who had been with Sir Herbert Tree in a good many productions, but who had never attained to more than a very tiny part. When the time came to rehearse his few lines he was so tired that his voice was anything but distinct.

"What's the matter, Mr. Z?" asked Sir Herbert in his most sarcastic tones. "Are you saving your voice for the rehearsal?"

"No, Sir Herbert," was the retort: "I've never been able to save anything under your management."

Sir Herbert, an exceedingly witty man himself, was so pleased with the retort that the salary of the small part man was raised.—London M. A. P.

Opposed to Mourning Clothes.

"A southern physician of recognized skill and eminence urges that all outward symbols of mourning should be abandoned," says Munsey's. "For many years he has expressed his views. He has won over a large number of people who see no reason why the heart should advertise its sorrow by the conspicuous insignia of gloom. There are or have been peoples wiser in their generation. The Romans of the days of the republic wore blue as a sign of mourning. It is the proper thing in Asia Minor now. The Turk mourns in violet and the Persian in pale brown. Until a French queen set the present fashion in the latter half of the fifteenth century white was the color of grief in Europe, as it is now in China."

THE OIL IN A NUTMEG.

If a Pin Prick Doesn't Draw It Then You've Got a Wooden Article.

The pure food expert at a pure food show in New York took up a nutmeg.

"Watch me jab this pin into the nutmeg here and there," he said. "Do you see how from each pin prick a little oil exudes? Well, that is a proof that the nutmeg is good. When a pin prick draws no oil from it it is a wooden nutmeg, nothing more."

"The nutmeg tree of Asia is seventy feet high. The fruit is like a pear. The flesh of the fruit is like candied citron, and its seeds, our nutmeg proper, are enveloped in a yellow rind that is our mace."

"Nutmegs are dried for two months in a moderate heat. They are then sorted, and the small and broken ones are thrown into the press for the purpose of extracting their oil, the essential oil of nutmeg being a very costly article of commerce."

"The big, fine, choice nutmegs, if they are now put on the market, are all right; but the oil being so costly, there is a way of extracting it without the use of the press. The fine, choice nutmeg is steeped in hot water and afterwards dried with lime. Then, though all its oil and nearly all its flavor have departed, it looks O. K.

"It looks O. K., but it is a worthless 'wooden nutmeg,' and if you grate it over anything you get no flavor, while if you stick a pin in it no oil exudes."—Exchange.

Sand Dunes in Gascony.

One of the most interesting and remarkable of the many regions for the observation of sand dunes lies between Bordeaux and Bayonne, in Gascony. The sea here throws every year upon the beach, along a line of 100 miles in length, some 5,000,000 cubic yards of sand. The prevailing westerly winds continue picking up the surface particles from the westward slope, whirl them over to the inward slope, where they are again deposited, and the entire ridge by this means alone moves gradually inward. In the course of years there has thus been formed a complex system of dunes, all approximately parallel with the coast and with one another and of all altitudes up to 250 feet. These are marching steadily inward at a rate of from three to six feet a year, whole villages having sometimes been torn down to prevent burial and rebuilt at a distance.
