Three Nights of This Week to Be Given Over to Late Closing Hours.

A word to chefs and Christmas dinner providers: There will be no grocery stores open on Christmas day. But on Monday there will be no purchases possible for the stores will be closed.

Some similar arrangement will be made by meat markets though just what they contemplate has not been announced.

The markets carry a good line of edibles for the holiday dinner and early shopping especially will result in a choice line of Christmas morsels.

The grocers who will follow the above outline are:

Pattison Bros., U. C. C. Association, City Grocery and Bakery, J. G. Snodgrass Grocery, Cummings & Price, Thorn's, J. W. White, A. S. Geddes, and Sandberg & Stageberg.

FATHER KERR ARRIVES

Delivers Farewell Address to Baker Congregation Sunday.

Father J. J. Kerr who has been the regular parish priest of this parish about four years until last summer will leave tonight to take up the same work in the La Grande parish, says the Baker Herald of Monday. Rev. Kerr is making the change entirely because of poor health which has kept him from performing the regular duties of the parish since last summer when he went east to undergo an operation.

In the time that he has been in this parish Father Kerr has endeared himself to the members of his church by his sincere and enthusiastic work, and has made a permanent place for himself in the community at large. By the families of his church as well as a great many outside the congregation he will be missed as much as a son.

He preached his farewell sermon yesterday morning at the cathedral. Last night a farewell reception was given in his honor. Mr. A. A. Smith made a short impromptu speech setting forth the appreciation and esteem of the members toward him, to which he very touchingly responded.

Father Bishop, the priest who relieves him of his duties in this parish also made a short talk.
