"THE BARRIER" COMPANY

Excellent Show Coming to the Steward.

To accurately cast this latest and greatest success of Rex Beach for its first transcontinental tour has been a heavy responsibility. The clean-cut and pronounced characters in the story must have their realistic counterparts upon the stage.

Those world wide book favorites: Captain Burrell, of the U. S. A.; Gale, the Mysterious, with a shadow on his past; Poleon, the light hearted French Canadian, who sings his way on to the stage, and into the hearts of all, and loves in vain; Stark, who has never been surpassed as a stage villain; Runnion, his confederate, who so faithfully represents the lower life of Alaskan bad men; No Creek Lee, a unique comedy character of the last west; Corporal Thomas, who allows his honesty to overshadow his discretion; Alunna, the faithful squaw of Gale, and supposed mother of Neela; and last of all Neela herself, who is led to believe that her "Barrier" to Captain Burrell and happiness is the taint of Indian blood running through her veins, will all fit into the stage pictures with realistic accuracy, when the company fills its bookings, appearing here as advertised, in the daily press in La Grande, on Saturday, Dec. 30th.

TRUST TRIAL COMMENCES.

Opening Forces Make Arguments to Jurors Packery Accused.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Announcing that the government had possession of the minutes of a secret meeting held by the National Packing company's directors, and charging some of the board meetings constituted a conspiracy United States Attorney Wilkerson continued the argument against beef barons today. He charged the trust was responsible for the high cost of living.

Wilkerson concluded his argument shortly after noon. George Buckingham, counsel for Swift, this afternoon makes the opening statement for the defense.

WHITE MAN ENTERED

off for a few miles among the hills, and thus, with difficulties augmenting at every step they urged their toilsome way * * half famished and faint of heart, when they came to where a fair valley spread out before them of great extent and several leagues in width, with a beautiful stream meandering through it." Here they obtained food from the Indians and rested in the famous Grande Ronde valley.

New Born Babe "Packed." "In the course of the following morning the Dorion family made its appearance. Pierre came trudging along in the advance, followed by his valued, though skeleton steed, on which was mounted the squaw, with her new born infant in her arms, and her boy of two years wrapped in a blanket and slung at her side. The mother looked as unconcerned as if nothing had happened to her." Previously, Irving says of her "and here we cannot but notice the wonderful patience, perseverance and hardihood of an Indian woman, as exemplified in the conduct of the poor squaw of the interpreter. She * * had two children to take care of; one four and the other two years of age. The latter, of course, she had frequently to carry on her back, in addition to the burden usually imposed upon the squaw, yet she had borne all her hardships without a murmur, and throughout this weary and painful journey had kept pace with the best pedestrians. Indeed on various occasions in the course of this enterprise, she displayed a force of character that won the applause of the white men. There is a lesson in this woman's story.

So brave, yet meek, whose love did never fail. Undaunted courage was her crown and glory. The foremost mother on that famous trail.

A Few Good Reasons

Why a sack of good flour makes a nice X-mas Present

FIRST, IT'S A NECESSITY AND USED BY ALL THREE TIMES DAILY, AND ANOTHER THING IT FITS THE WHOLE FAMILY. NO EXCHANGING FOR A DIFFERENT SIZE, AND IF THE OTHER FELLOW GIVES YOU THE SAME THING IT DON'T HURT, THE OLDER IT GETS THE BETTER. AND AGAIN, EVERY TIME YOU EAT IT YOU THINK OF THE PERSON WHO GAVE IT. NOW JUST ASK YOURSELF IF THESE ARE NOT FACTS. ABOVE ALL THINGS TELL YOUR GROCER TO SEND YOU LA GRANDE MILLING CO.'S BLUE STEM. THEY ALL SELL IT. IT'S GUARANTEED. IF IT WASN'T GOOD WE'D SAY SO.
