SEAT SALE ON FOR MINSTRELS

RAPID DISPOSITION MADE OF THE ELKS' TICKETS.

Rehearsals Going on for Two-Night Performances This Week.

The sale of seats for the Elks' minstrels opened at Van Buren's yesterday and the indications are that the Elks will play to the biggest business of the season. Rehearsals are going on in fine shape and the show promises to surpass their previous efforts in every way. The chorus is unusually strong and the soloists are good. The end men, too, appear to great advantage in their songs, dances and stories, while Nate Ardrey, with his banjo solos and Ed Donohue, Harry Miller and Clint Draper with their dancing steps will give the minstrel show the real old time southern air. Tonight the minstrels will rehearse with the orchestra and the finishing touches will be put on the show. Tomorrow at 11:30 the Elks will parade in full minstrel regalia, with high hats, fancy coats and canes, to the music of the band. Get your seats at once as you really can't afford to miss the big attraction of Holiday week.

ANNA KREIGER MARRIED

SANTA CLAUS BRINGS BRIDE TO RAY CONRAD.

Quiet Home Wedding Performed Sunday Morning at Kreiger Home.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. George Kreiger last Sunday morning at 8:30 when her daughter, Miss Anna, became the bride of Ray Conrad of Tatt, California. Upton H. Gibbs of the Episcopal church performed the ceremony. A few intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present. The couple left on the morning train for Portland. They will return to La Grande about the first of the year but their further intentions are unknown.

"The Barrier."

Rex Beach wrote not only a best seller, but a strong story of the northland when he wrote "The Barrier." There are many thrills in it, and Mr. Presberry, who dramatized the novel, retained the thrills and sent out a play of considerable dramatic intensity.

It tells of a young American army officer's love for an Indian maid, his natural repugnance to marry her and become a squawman—which is the barrier—and the final adjustment of affairs by the fourth act—revealing that she is white, the daughter of a fine and beautiful mother, her father being the villain of the play, who had murdered his wife eighteen years before, when the heroine was an infant in arms.

When this is definitely demonstrated, the army officer—who is something of a prig, by the way—takes the girl in his arms, and the curtain falls with the American flag in the background, and the pleasant announcement that the couple are to be married that very evening. "The Barrier" will appear at the Steward Dec. 30th.
