FARM TRYOUT TO COMMENCE

GREAT GARDENING CAMPAIGN IS READY.

County School Superintendents to Aid in Enlisting Support.

Before the first March winds blow the greatest series of tryouts ever held in the schools of Oregon will be under way. The boys and the girls of the state are going to determine "who is who" in gardening, farming, carpentry, cooking, sewing and in raising chickens, ducks, and pigs. Enthusiasm for this state wide series of industrial contests is waxing warmer than it has ever been for contests along athletic lines.

The plan is for every county superintendent to enlist the support of his teachers in explaining the plan to the children and interesting them in the work, and to secure the co-operation of Commercial clubs, bankers, and business men in obtaining prizes for their local or county fairs. These county or local premium lists may be made out independently of the state list, which are: field corn, pop corn, sweet corn, watermelons, muskmelons, pumpkins, squashes, potatoes, cabbage, grain selections, bird houses, piece of furniture, mechanical toys, labor saving device for home, bread, canned fruit, jelly, mending, darning, aprons, dresses, asters, sweet peas, chickens, ducks and pigs.

A bulletin of information and instruction, including the state prize list will soon be sent out to the school children, one for every home. All the boys and the girls now need to do is to go to work. If they want to compete in gardening they should at once secure a plot of ground, which they may have plowed. If boys expect to win prizes in woodwork they should begin practicing with their tools. If girls wish to carry off laurels in cooking and sewing they must begin early either at school or at home. If it is the poultry contest that lures most settings of eggs should be secured from breeders of pure strains of chickens or ducks. Or if hog raising seems most attractive, the competitor should secure a thoroughbred pig and start to feeding and caring for it. There is nothing to prevent a boy or girl from competing in all these lines.

COVE PEOPLE MARRIED

PROMINENT FRUIT GROWER BECOMES BENEDICT.

Miss Minnie Sucher Becomes Wife of Albert Clay.

Coe, Feb. 1.—On Saturday, Jan. 27, at high noon, in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Sucher in North Cove, occurred the marriage of their daughter, Miss Minnie, to Albert Clay, a fruit grower near Cove.

Only the relatives and a few friends were present to witness the ceremony. Rev. A. Coslet of the Methodist church officiating. After the ceremony all sat down to a lovely wedding breakfast. After the repast the company adjourned to a room adjoining the parlor to admire the lovely presents received by the happy couple.

The bride and groom departed on the afternoon train for a wedding trip and a visit among friends in La Grande and other places. In a few weeks they will be at home in North Cove to their many friends.

It Was His Mistake.

Mr. Newed (the week before his birthday)—Good gracious, here are six boxes of cheap cigars my wife has evidently bought me for a present! I couldn't possibly smoke such vile things, and still I wouldn't like to hurt her feelings by refusing. I'll just substitute six boxes of my best Havanas and throw these cheap ones away before she returns.

Mrs. Newed (the day after)—Oh, Tom, I bought six boxes of cheap cigars yesterday for my dear Uncle Jonas, the sea captain, who lives in Wales. I have just posted them to him. They only cost me 5 shillings a box, but I'm sure he won't be able to tell them from good ones. Why, how funny you look, dear! Are you ill?—London Tit-Bits.

Ats With Tears In His Eyes.
On one occasion General Scott attended a banquet where all the states of the Union were represented by a dish in some way characteristic of each commonwealth. Pennsylvania was represented by a bowl of sauerkraut, and in speaking of the fact the next morning the general remarked, "I partook of it with tears in my eyes." This fondness of Scott for the good things of the table, taken in conjunction with the famous "hasty plate of soup" incident, gave point to the name of "Marshal Turenne," with which he was once saluted by the Rev. Dr. Smith Pyne, an inveterate punster. It was Dr. Pyne who once exclaimed after hearing Ole Bull play, "If honorary degrees were conferred upon musicians Ole Bull would be Eddie D. D."—Marian Gouveneur in "As I Remember."

Blackjacks.

The earliest drinking vessels for wines and ales were those made from skins of animals, and these vessels still retain their popularity in the east and on the continent. In England these vessels were made of carefully tanned hides which were unbreakable and possessed everlasting properties. The blackjacks, famed in song and story, were shaped like pitchers and were fashioned from one large piece of leather, which was curled in the necessary manner. Pitch was smeared over the inside. These old blackjacks gave their name to the heavy riding boots worn by cavaliers, which came to be called jackboots. Owing to the popularity of the blackjacks the French declared that the English drank out of their boots.—London Globe.

The Seeing Eye.

I know a man who has lived on one farm half a century. He sleeps in the room in which he was born. He knows every rod of his farm in the dark. Yet his lambs and his pigs, the velvet roll of new sprouting wheat, the procession of the seasons, the apple trees he planted and has watched for years—all are new to him each day. I have seen him stand and look at his sheep as if he were a city man long shut out from such sights. A sunset or a sunrise is to him a miracle new performed each day. That man has the seeing eye.—Detroit News.

Not What He Expected.

"Darling," he murmured, "whatever induced you to care for a fellow like me?"

"I really don't know, George," she replied. "Pa has threatened to send me to a brain specialist."—Boston Transcript.

Old Time Vintners.

In the city of London at the time of King John every vintner was required to hang outside his shop an iron vessel with pegs marking the different quantities sold.

The Grass Widow Defined.

It is related of a Methodist bishop that when presiding over a district conference in North Carolina he had an attack of hay fever and in consequence was somewhat irascible and impatient. A young preacher who gave a rather poor account of his work was given a severe reprimand by the bishop and asked to state the reason for his failure.

"Well, bishop," he explained, "we had a lot of trouble the first year with a grass widow, and"—
"A grass widow!" roared the bishop. "And what, pray, is a grass widow?"
"A grass widow, bishop," responded the young clergyman, "is a woman whose husband died of hay fever."—St. Louis Republic.

Perhaps.

"Why," said the young man who tries to be cynical, "are dogs and horses so much more faithful in their friendships for us than our fellow human beings?"

"Perhaps," replied Miss Cayenne, "it's often due to the fact that we treat them with so much more kindness and consideration."—Washington Star.

A Good Third.

"You admit that you are not first in her affections, yet you seem cheerful."
"Oh, I can't expect to compete with the pug dog and the rubber plant."—Washington Herald.
