Your Druggist Stops That Itch

If you are suffering from Eczema, Psoriasis or any other kind of skin trouble, drop into our store for instant relief. We will guarantee you to stop that itch in two seconds.

We have sold other remedies for skin troubles, but none that we could recommend as highly as this, a mild wash of Oil of Wintergreen Thymol and a few other ingredients that have brought such wonderful cures all over the country.

This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema and it will cool and heal the itchy, burning skin as nothing else can.

A 25c trial bottle will prove it. Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big-profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE it costs you not a cent.

INDIAN WAR VETERAN IS ILL

J. Q. A. RICHARDSON ILL AT HIS HOME.

His Condition Deemed Extremely Precarious Last Night.

J. Q. A. Richardson, one of the surviving Indian war veterans who fought against redskins that infested the Walla Walla country and the Grande Ronde, has been seriously ill at the Richardson home in Lower Cove. He is quite aged and alarm is felt for his condition which is deemed critical.

His condition last evening was reported precarious and it is doubtful if he will recover.

Mr. Richardson was a member of the detail of white soldiers camped in the Grande Ronde when the last stand of the Indians was made on a spot where La Grande is now located, but on that particular day Mr. Richardson was detailed to go to Fort Walla Walla and did not actually participate in the last battle fought in this valley where the Indians were effectually routed. He is a prominent member of the Pioneer association of this county.

Ida St. Leon, who has been starring in "Polly of the Circus," will have a new play next season, in which she will star under the management of Frederick Thompson.

NAPOLEON'S DESTINY.

Summed Up in Four Mottos Bonaparte Learned at School.

In 1784 Bonaparte, then fifteen years old, arrived at the military school of Paris from Brienne, being one of four under the conduct of a minor priest. He mounted 173 steps, carrying his small valise, and reached, in the attic, the barrack chamber he was to occupy. This chamber had two beds and a small window opening on the great yard of the school. The young predecessors of Bonaparte had bespattered the whitewashed walls with charcoal, and the newcomer could read in this little cell these four inscriptions, which we ourselves read three years ago:

An epaulet is very long to win.—De Montigny.

The finest day in life is that of a battle.—Vicente de Tintencio.

Life is but a prolonged lie.—Le Chevalier Adolphe Delmas.

The end of all is six feet of earth.—Le Comte de la Vilette.

With the trifling substitution of the word "empire" for "epaulet" these four sentences contain the whole destiny of Bonaparte and formed a kind of "Mene, Tekel, Upharsin," written in advance upon that wall.—Victor Hugo.

Sir Herbert Tree has astonished all London by entering upon a music hall engagement, presenting a dramatization of Kipling's story, "The Man Who Was."
