ROOSEVELT CLUB FORMING

NATIONAL POLITICS TO BE ENGENDERED BY IT.

Parade of Roosevelt Boomers to Inaugurate His Boom Here.

Creation of a "Roosevelt for president" club in this city is to be ushered in with tooting of horn and tramp of enthusiastic feet within a few days in this city asking for supporters and it is said pleasing results have been attained. One of these fine nights the La Grande band will swing down the avenues with a cortege of enthusiastic Roosevelt boomers behind it, and the formation of an active club is the next step anticipated.

National in Nature Only.

No local coloring is to be allowed in the makeup of the club and all its interests are to be centered on national politics. Anyone with axes to grind in a local way will have no welcome hand extended, it is said.

The significance of the present British cotton struggle may be appreciated when it is understood that the unions have a fund of $1,250,000 and can call on the Federation of the Trade Unions for $125,000 a week for three weeks.

NEW TALES THAT ARE TOLD

Secretary Fisher's Evasion.

Those discussing prohibition are responsible for the circulation of a story on Secretary Fisher of the department of the interior. He was once counsel for people in Chicago who desired to close the saloons there on Sunday, and as he was making an argument to effect this end at court the counsel for the liquor interests, Levy Mayer, asked the court for permission to ask Attorney Fisher a question, and, on this being granted, Mayer asked:

"I would like to ask if counsel for the opposition ever took a drink?"

Mr. Fisher looked as if he did not understand, and the question was put to the desperado to go along, as he (Jerry South) needed that $2,000 reward.

Mr. South and his prisoner proceeded to Little Rock. They put up at a hotel and ate and drank together that night. The next day the desperado occupied a seat beside Jerry in the convention, and the day following he was an attendant on the Democratic meeting.

On the fourth day Mr. South delivered his prisoner at Joplin, Mo., and got the $2,000. The bad man told the sheriff he had had a good time and that South was a "darned good fellow."

A Sad Event.

The late Tody Hamilton, who was held to know as much about circuses as any human being could, once told of the misfortune of an Ohio man who was attempting to pilot a "one tent show" through the middle west.

This owner lost a number of valuable animals by accident and otherwise, so that it was with considerable sympathy that one of his keepers undertook the task of "breaking gently to the old man" the news of further disaster. The keeper accomplished this with much tact, as follows:

"Mr. Morgan, you remember that 'laffin' hyena in cage No. 8?"

"Remember the laughing hyena?" repeated the owner. "What the deuce are you driving at?"

"Simply this, Mr. Morgan: he ain't got nothin' to laugh at this mornin'." -Lippincott's.

A Vain Flirtation.

A young man came out of a West Federal street picture theater one evening last week leading by the arm a companion who appeared to be in a somewhat dazed condition.

The door tender looked at the two in surprise, as the exhibition had started only a few minutes before.

"Don't you like the show?" he asked.

"Yes, it's all right," replied the man who led his companion, "but my friend here is a trifle under the weather, and he insists on flirting with the girl's on the films." -Youngstown Telegram.

A Future Financier.

A very nice young man was calling on his sister. To make things easy, he gave him a beautiful new penny, saying, "Save each penny and soon you will have a dollar."

"I'll soon have a dollar!" replied the boy, with great eagerness.

The young man smiled good naturedly, dug into his pocket, saying:

"Well, just how much more do you need?"

"Only 99 cents."

He soon had a dollar. -Judge.

Real Congratulations.

"Many congratulations Herr Zwenger! I hear your wife presented twins to you yesterday."

"Oh, no; it wasn't I. It was the other Zwenger."

"Then I congratulate you very heartily." - Fliegende Blatter.

Tactless.

"That man is the most tactless person I ever saw," said Maude.

"What did he do?" inquired Mamie.

"Met a lady in Reno and tried to be agreeable by telling her he hoped her husband was well." - Washington Star.

That Oriental Flame.

Aladdin was boasting of his lamp.

"Doesn't your wife keep it burning after you tell her not to sit up for you?" we asked.

Sadly he acknowledged it had its limitations. - New York Sun.

You Never Can Tell.

Dolly - She married a very old man, didn't she? I understood he had one foot in the grave.

Polly - That's what she thought, too, but he still continues to buy his shoes by the pair. - Puck.

Selder's Farm for Sale

County Commissioner, J. M. Selders, who owns one of the finest all around farms in the county, offers it for sale.

Situated in that choice section of the county, one mile from Cove, post office, consisting of 280 acres.

An abundance of water, the perpetual right to the use of the same has passed upon by the Supreme Court.

Eighteen acres of orchard, 10 acres of apples, commercial varieties. Mr Selders in 1910 sold $1095.15 worth of cherries. (Farm rented 1911.)

Eighty acres of fine alfalfa land, 20 acres now in good timothy; Oats in 1910 yielded 100 bushels to the acre; Wheat went 52 bushels; Choice pasture; 50,000 feet of saw timber.

Choice spring piped into the house and barn. Farm well fenced and up-to-date in every respect. Modern 10-room house, plastered, basement with cement floor, bath, hot and cold water, shade trees—an ideal home.

Large, modern barn, that holds 110 tons of hay, two floors equipped to take care of 30 dairy cows and seven head of horses.

Mr. Selders has lived on this farm for over 30 years. The price is very reasonable and the terms exceedingly easy. An initial payment of about $6,000 with an annual payment of only $500 with interest at six per cent. Mr. Selders has made himself independent on this very farm, but now desires to retire from active management.

Here is an opportunity seldom presented. Call and permit me to give you the details and personally take you over the property.

JERRY SOUTH AND THE DESPERADO.

House Disbursing Clerk Has a Way of Doing Things.

Jerry South, disbursing clerk of the house of representatives, added another big scalp to his belt when he held up Andrew Carnegie's witness fees for a few days. This is a habit of Jerry's and recalls one of his exploits several years ago.

At that time a couple of citizens named Taylor terrorized parts of Missouri to the point where a large reward was offered for their capture "dead or alive." Mr. South was the riding bull of a sheriff's office and had a habit of rounding up criminals that were hard to take.

One day he was riding along the road when he spied one of the Taylor boys. He "took" him. The desperado was peeved about it and shocked when Mr. South told him his program. South explained that he was on his way to attend a convention at Little Rock, Ark., when his mind was diverted by the sight of the aforesaid Taylor. He explained that he had to go to that convention and there was no way out of it except for him several times by the persistent Mayer. Finally Mayer became embarrassed, but again put his question, and this time Fisher said:

ASK THE QUESTION AT THE PROPER TIME," SAID MR. FISHER.

"If counsel for the opposition will put that question in proper form and tense and ask it at the proper time, say after court shall have been adjourned, I will be pleased to give him a demonstrative answer."

The story concludes with the acknowledgment that at the proper time Mayer bought. -Boston Advertiser.
