NEW CANTATA TO BE GIVEN

MARCH 16 IS DATE SET FOR ATTRACTION.

Pretty Little Story Told by Cantata Actors Saturday Night.

"The Little Gypsy," a new cantata, will be delivered March 16, next Saturday night, at the M. I. A. amusement hall. The little cantata is said to be a fine story.

The Characters.

Daisy Glenn, a gypsy girl Jesse Spilker Florence Earle, Kate Bloomer, school girls. Nellie Storey and Blanch Black like a gypsy boy. Grant Geddes Willie Fair, Frank Ellis, school boys. Howard Stoddard, Elwood Lyman Village boys and girls.

The Story.

The scene opens on a Saturday morning in the month of June. The village children are at play on the common. Florence Earle and Kate Bloomer, school companions have each bought a little bead purse from Daisy Glenn, a gypsy girl whose tribe is encamped in a field, just outside the village. The boys try to take Daisy's basket from her, but are prevented from doing so by Ike, a gypsy boy, who comes to her rescue. Willie Fair and Frank Ellis, also school companions, agree to escort the two young gypsies to their camp, where they overhear an old gypsy woman tell a big dark-skinned man that he must not let Daisy go to the village again, as it is the place she was taken from when a little child. Willie and Frank hurry back to the common and tell Florence and Kate what they have heard. Florence is greatly surprised and says her baby sister was stolen years ago. They go at once to their father, Mr. Earle, who visits the gypsy camp. Daisy proves to be Florence's sister; She is taken home to her dear mother and the gypsies run away. She is overjoyed at finding her parents, who dress her in some of Florence's clothes. Her real name is Eva, and with her new-found sisters, surrounded by the merry children, she appears again upon the village common, this time a happy child. Before the curtain falls Ike joins the throng; he says he is tired of gypsy life. He is given a hearty welcome.

Apples or Onions?

No one would for a moment imagine any one mistaking an onion for an apple. But don't be too sure. Some day when you have nothing else to do cut a small square of onion and a square of apple of the same size, close your eyes and hold your nose tightly and then get some one to hand you one of the squares without telling you which one it is. You would be well advised not to wager any money on being able to tell by chewing which it is. The explanation is that a large part of what we call taste is really smell—Pearson's Weekly.

Platinum.

The national jeweler's board of trade has started a movement to obtain legislative action for the proper marking of platinum, to distinguish the pure from alloyed metal. The jewelers want some law enacted such as now covers gold and silver. With the absence of any regulation and the increased use of platinum some unscrupulous dealers have sold alloys for the real metal. To prevent this fraud a nation wide crusade has been started for the protection of buyers of platinum.

ADVERTISED TOO LITTLE

Taft Administration Has Not Blown Its Own Trumpet.

Will an administration stand stronger before the country if every achievement is thoroughly and forcefully advertised when it becomes a fact and that advertising is kept up from inauguration to election, or do the American people prefer to do their own thinking, only to be reminded of the achievements of their public servants when a campaign is approaching? This is one of the questions friends of President Taft's administration are seriously asking themselves. Those who have taken occasion recently to examine the records of this administration are themselves surprised to discover how much has been accomplished and how little has been said about it.

Of course, in the approaching campaign, the record will figure largely in the Republican textbook and will be proclaimed from the political stump, but has not the Taft administration suffered because it has proceeded so quietly and blown its own trumpet so little?
