CAMPAIGN FELT IN WALLOWA

LOCAL MOVEMENT FOR MEN AND RELIGION MOVEMENT ON.

Missionary to Wallowa County Will Spread the Plans Tonight.

The first personal field work in the interest of the Men and Religion Forward movement and the coming campaign in La Grande will be done this evening by Rev. S. W. Seemann who left this morning for Wallowa.

At a banquet given this evening in Wallowa for the purpose of getting the men and boys together to get acquainted with the Forward movement, Rev. Seemann will present the cause to the banquetters and invite them to come to La Grande March 31 and April 1 and 2.

Mr. Seemann's itinerary includes Wallowa, Enterprise, Lostine and Joseph. In all of these places the Protestant churches are holding union missionary meetings and on the night Dr. Seemann visits them there will be given a banquet to the men and boys. At these banquets the Men and Religion Forward movement will be the chief topic for discussion.

AN ERRATIC VOLCANO.

Rose From the Sea, Formed an Island and Sank Again.

On June 10, 1810, the Sabrina, a British sloop of war, observed smoke arising from the sea near St. Michael, off the Azores, and made for it, believing that a naval engagement was in progress. Her crew found, however, that great tongues of flame were issuing along with the smoke and that they had cleared for action to fight a volcano.

Forty-eight hours later an island made its appearance, having risen from a depth of forty fathoms in that period, and in another day it was fifty-one feet above the surface, with a length of about three quarters of a mile. By July 4 the Sabrina's people were able to land on this new shore, which was then 200 feet high with a circumference of fully a mile, with a stream six yards wide running from the center to the sea.

They took formal possession of it for his Britannic majesty, hoisting the union jack on its most conspicuous point, but by degrees the island sank until about the middle of October it vanished below the surface, with the union jack still on it, like a battleship sinking with colors flying after a fatal engagement.—London Standard.

A Letter of Importance.
The letter 'I' is the most important in the alphabet because it reads in other in perfection. It is likewise first in peace and prosperity and gives to pleasure its proper form. It is found in every enterprise and aspiration, and without its valuable offices our staunchest anchor of hope would be but a commonplace hoe. In importance it is decidedly the dominating letter. It has no place in history, but is foremost in philosophy and gives power to the pen. While always first in provocation, it likewise leads in pardon and possesses great power in persuasion. It is rich in the emotions and virtues. Patriotism, passion, patience, pity and poetry acknowledge it as their very own. No point or picture or port was ever made without it. It leads all others in power, permanency and preciousness. Purpose has no meaning without it, and pyramids are built upon its base.—Galaxy.

Staining Glass.
The art of coloring glass has been lost and refound, guarded and stolen so many times during the history of civilization that it seems almost impossible to say anything new on glass staining. Yet a modern process for making the stained glass used in windows is a departure from anything known to the old timers. The glass first receives its design in mineral colors, and the whole is then fired in a heat so intense that the coloring matter and the glass are indissolubly fused. The most attractive feature of this method is that the surface acquires a peculiar pitted character in the heat, so that when the glass is in place the lights are beautifully soft and mellow.—New York Herald.

Draw the Line.
"Madam," began the man respectfully, "I am very hungry. Could you give me a bit of something?"
"I will call the dog," the woman replied.
"I am hungry enough to eat the dog," the man said, "but I'd rather have something else."
And, woman-like, she went inside and banged the door.—Buffalo Express.
