

KNIGHTS WILL CHARTER TRAIN

EASTER SERVICES TO BE HELD AT BAKER.

Large Territory to Be Represented at Fraternal Functions.

A fraternal function similar in many respects to that held in La Grande last year, is scheduled for Baker a week hence when Easter services will be conducted in Baker with commanderies from Pendleton, La Grande and Welser represented. La Grande is to charter a special train to conduct the Knights on the voyage. Full regalia will be used by the Knights and the pomp and splendor so conspicuous last year in this city will be emulated on the Baker journey.

SOCIETY NEWS

Robert Newlin won the first prize. The afternoon section of the Kaffee Klatch met with Miss Margaret Kirk this week.

A most delightful Kensington party was held at the home of Mrs. Crawford with Mrs. Irwin as hostess. Delicious refreshments were served with place cards in keeping with April Fools day.

What Others Say.

Those who attended the lyceum at G. F. C. last night were highly pleased with the wonderful work of the Le Brun grand opera company, composed of Madame Le Brun, soprano; Fritz Huttman, tenor; Arthur Deane, baritone, and Dorothy Wilson, contralto. Mr. Humiston, accompanist, and Mr. Duncan, stage manager.

Too much cannot be said of the work of these artists, and the comparison with the greatest artists, each taking their part with great ease. In fact this was the first time Greenville music lovers ever had a taste of grand opera in this city, sung by such a capable company. One act was given from "Faust" and practically the whole of "Cavallera Rusticana" was given.

Too much cannot be said of the work of the stage manager, Mr. Duncan, who worked without ceasing to give people the best stage settings under such difficulties.

The lyceum management regrets the enormous crowd prevented all those attending from securing seats. This will be remedied next year with the completion of the new G. F. C. auditorium. Despite this crowding, the audience went away feeling that they were well repaid for attending this banner attraction. The Greenville Daily News, Saturday morning, January 13, 1912.

TRUNK MURDER TRIAL NEARS

Portland, Ore., March 30.—Strange tales of Chinese feuds, intermingled with the romance of love-making, are expected to be unfolded in the circuit court here next week when Wong Si Sam and Len Soon are placed on trial on the charge of killing Seld Bing and shipping his body in a trunk to Seattle.

The alleged principals in the tragedy, represented widely-separated classes of the local Chinese colony. Seld Bing, the victim, was an Americanized Chinaman of good family with an inclination to be something of a "sport." He was a nephew of Seld Back, one of the best known Chinese in Portland and reputed to be a millionaire. In addition to being wealthy themselves the members of the Seld family are Chinese Free Masons and are allied with the powerful Hop Sing tong.

Len Soon, one of the pair accused of the murder, has occupied a place of considerable prominence and influence among his fellow countrymen. He is president of the Hop Sing tong in this city and is a former president of the Hop Sing tong in San Francisco. Wong Si Sam, who is to stand trial with Len Soon for the alleged murder, is a Shinese of low grade.

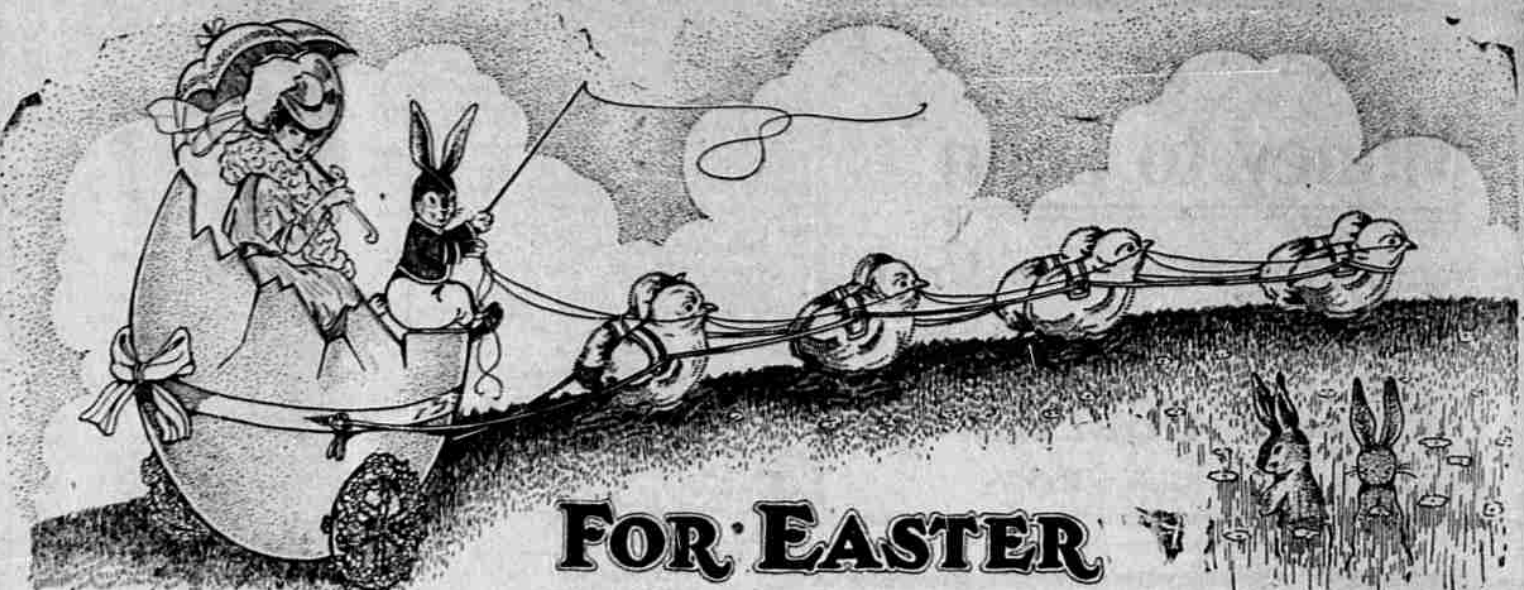

Little Ol Sen, the most beautiful Chinese woman on the coast, is alleged to have been the fourth of the leading characters in the tragedy and is counted upon by the prosecution to lend assistance in untangling the web of romance, jealousy and deadly warfare that reached its climax in the slaying of young Seld Bing in the woman's apartments.

Eminent counsel has been engaged to defend the accused and it is evident that an arduous fight will be made to prevent their conviction.
