GERMANS ARE FOR SELLING

Prominent German Paper Voices Its Sentiment.

When Robert Mantell, the actor, was in Portland, two weeks ago, he presented the play "Julius Caesar." In the very opening scene two senators give an illustration of their idea of their office. They meet a crowd of workmen on the street, and command them to get back to their trades, and exchange their holiday garments for the leather aprons of their crafts. A senator those days didn't think much of the people.

A Roman senator didn't have to live in the district that paid him. He was not required to know the people who supported him. He scorned his constituency, and knew no more of them than that they promptly and plentifully furnished him with money. He spent the money for his own aggrandizement, and never gave an accounting. That would have been belittling to the dignity of a senator.

Here in America we don't approve of a senator who ignores the people. Oregon doesn't indorse a senator who has the Roman idea of his office, and the aristocrat's estimate of the people.

For the past six years Oregon has been paying the salary of a Caius Cassius style of senator at Washington; a senator who ignores the people who support him, and avoids the contamination of residence among them.

The people of Oregon want a senator who knows the people, and who believes in them; who is interested in them, and proves his position by making himself one of them. Oregon wants a senator who recognizes manhood even in working clothes; who doesn't demand that his fellow citizens put on evening dress before they will be permitted to shake hands with him; who concedes the just demands of labor, and would put the lightest burden on the shoulders least able to carry it.

Oregon men and women want Ben Selling to be their senator at Washington. They have tried the Roman aristocrat, non-resident type, and they don't like it. The manhood of the state is for Selling.—The Zeitung.

Will Win in a Walk.

It is beginning to look like an easy ride for Ben Selling to the United States Senate. Formerly there was no telling what the legislature would do, but now it is a pretty certain thing that it will follow the wishes of the people.—Redmond Hub.

GIANT SWORDFISH.

Monsters Fifteen Feet Long Armed With Three Foot Weapons.

A queer fish is the swordfish. It is found in the tropical and subtropical zones of both the eastern and western hemispheres. Some of the tropical species are of enormous size and measure from twelve to fifteen feet in length, with swords at least three feet long.

The sword is much the shape of a cone somewhat flattened, the end sharply pointed. It is smooth on the top and sides, but the under part is rough. It is really an elongation of the bones of the upper jaw and is possessed of very great strength, for with these weapons they have been known to pierce the copper sheathing of vessels and heavy plates and timbers, but, although they can drive the sword far into these substances, they cannot draw them out, so break them off and swim away without them.

A large fin extends nearly the length of the back of the creature, which is folded back when the fish is swimming in order that its progress may not be impeded if speed is desired, but when quietly swimming it is often erected and acts as a sail to carry it through the water. The swordfish is very aggressive in its disposition and will often assail fish much larger than itself. Even the whale is not exempt from its attacks. The food of the swordfish consists of smaller fish, which it kills by stabbing them with its sword. There is quite a large business done in swordfishing, as the flesh is used for food. The larger species are caught by harpooning, the smaller in nets.

Back in the Good Old Bow Days.

A man of apparent means brought two boys into a barber shop for a haircut. While waiting for the completion of the job, he said:

"I never sat in a barber's chair when I was a kid. My brother used to go over to the engine house and borrow the horse clippers. Then my mother would put a bowl on my head and cut around it. Until I was twelve years old, I always looked like a window washer's brush."—Chicago Post.

The Dead Revived.

In a scientific weekly we read the headline, "Can the Dead Be Revived?" They are revived every performance at the Metropolitan Opera House. It is a most encouraging symptom to see corpses arise from the stage after the curtain falls and bow their appreciation of the applause.—Musical Courier.
