I take pleasure in announcing to the public that I have moved my optical office to the Haworth building three doors east of the Golden Rule store on Adams avenue where I have fitted up optical rooms, more modern, also more conveniently arranged for the scientific practice of optometry. You are cordially invited to inspect my office and equipment and let me explain my methods of sight testing.

My large growing practice proves that MY METHOD of sight testing GETS RESULTS where others fail.

I DO NOT USE DRUGS.
I GRIND ALL MY GLASSES.

BITULITHIC IS FINE PAVEMENT.

Portland Engineers Give Material Unqualified Endorsement in Letters.

Further testimony to the merits claimed for bitulithic pavement, particularly in respect to its durable qualities and naturally consequent adaptability for heavy street traffic, is found in the testimonials of J. W. Morris, consulting engineer, formerly engineer of Portland, and T. M. Hurlburt, the present city engineer. Each of these engineers, recognized experts in their line of work, give unqualified endorsement to bitulithic as a street pavement proven by actual and severest tests at Portland to be all that was, and is, claimed for it.

The following brief statistics representing the adoption and use of this pavement at Portland will prove interesting. With the year ending December 31st, 1911, there has been laid and under contract in Portland 1,628,294 square yards of bitulithic pavement. During the seven years prior to the beginning of 1911, that company has laid 1,182,000 square yards in Portland, and the total amount of maintenance cost was less than $2,000.—Olympian.

Summons.

QUALITY OF MILK.

It Can Easily Be Determined by Using the Candle Test.

Here is a very simple way in which to test the quality of the milk you buy. First stir the milk with a spoon in order to disseminate into the whole liquid the cream which may have come to the surface. Then one volume of milk is poured into fifty volumes of water—one fluid ounce to two and a half pints. A candle is lighted in a dark room. Take an ordinary drinking glass with a tolerably flat and even bottom and hold it right above the candle at a distance of about one foot from it, so as to be able to see the flame of the candle through the bottom of the glass. Then pour slowly the diluted milk into the glass.

The flame becomes less bright as the level of the liquid rises into the glass. The flame is soon reduced to a dull white spot. A little more liquid slowly added, so as to avoid pouring an excess, and the flame becomes absolutely invisible. All that remains to be done is to measure the height of the liquid in the glass, this being most conveniently ascertained by dipping into it a strip of pasteboard and then measuring the wet part. It should measure not over one inch if the milk is pure. With good quality milk, diluted and tested as stated, the depth will be about seven-eighths of an inch before the flame is lost to view. A mixture of one volume of milk and a half a volume of water should show a depth of one and a half inches. A depth of two inches indicates either partially skimmed milk or a mixture of one volume of good milk and one of water, and so on.

The process is based upon the close relation between the opacity of milk and the number of fatty corpuscles contained in it. Both skimming and the adding of water work in the same direction—namely, to decrease the opacity of milk. The same cannot be said of the density. Skimming increases it. Adding water decreases it, and the common test that consists in the mere introduction of the lactodensimeter in milk is worthless, as skimmed milk may have a normal density if care has been taken to pour into it a certain amount of water.—New York World.

NOTICE FOR BIDS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That bids will be received by the city of Union, Oregon, for the laying of 8,000 feet of 12 inch pipe in the improvement of its water works system, the digging of the trench therefor, the construction of an influent crib, and the doing of all work and furnishing of all material therefor, excepting that the city of Union will furnish on board cars at Union, Oregon, all pipe and gates, all to be done in accordance with specifications and plans therefor on file in the office of the city recorder of said city of Union. All bids must be filed with the city recorder of the city of Union by noon of Monday, the 15th day of April, 1912. The city of Union reserves the right to reject any and all bids. All bids to be accompanied with certified check of 5 per cent of bid, as evidence of good faith, and as a forfeit in case of failure of bidder to enter into contract for such construction, in case of acceptance of bid.

Dated at Union, Oregon, this 6th day of April, 1912.

Chairman of Water Committee.

Going Some.

Guess it's going some to have the reputation of making the best flour in Oregon. That's what they all say and we're glad. We can prove it, and one more thing to consider: Our graham flour and German mush are made each week. It's right from the roller to your feeder. All you have to do is to tell your grocer you wish the kind of a sack that reads La Grande Milling company on it. Step in any store. It's there. 4-9-2t

Deserves Another Term.

Representative J. Hampton Moore, who is well known in many different sections of the country on account of his active interest in waterway improvements, in discussing the administration of President Taft has this to say:

"President Taft ought to be renominated and elected because he stands for stability. He should be nominated because it has been generally conceded by Republicans since the first day he entered the office that the same treatment would be accorded him with respect to a second term that is usually accorded to Republican presidents who have done well. There is no good party excuse for not nominating him. He should be elected because, while not a political president in the sense that he has played politics to the satisfaction of all elements of his party, he has in fact been a broad gauge president, conservative in all matters affecting the dignity of the office and the obligations assumed by him to sustain and uphold the constitution and the laws of this country."

Taft's Efforts For Peace.

Honesty of intention, stability of purpose and a firm faith in the principles of the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley are some of the characteristics of President Taft. Familiar with the horrors of war, as well as the enormous expense that it always entails, independent of the vast expenditures required to keep a great nation upon a constant war footing, the president has persistently sought to promote a worldwide peace of nations by international agreement. Any failure of accomplishment in furthering this worthy cause cannot be charged to the president.

Why Shoes Have Tongues.

Every one that wears lace shoes knows that there is a tongue of leather under the place where the two sides of the shoe meet, but there is none in button shoes. Probably very few persons know that this is a comparatively modern idea and is not for the purpose of keeping the laces from hurting the instep, but is to keep out rain and snow. There would be no discomfort if the laces touched the sock, but no matter how closely a shoe may be laced up there is always a slight space which would allow rain to reach the stocking.—New York Sun.

Advancing.

He only is advancing in life whose heart is getting softer, whose blood warmer, whose brain quicker, whose spirit is entering into living peace.—Ruskin.

Mercenary.

Griggs—So Smart is going to marry his divorced wife? Briggs—Yes, the mercenary cuss is after the alimony he pays her.—New York Times.
