LIFE IN ANCIENT ROME

Its Problems Were Pretty Much the Same as Those of Today.

In reviewing the book "The Common People of Ancient Rome" a critic says: "It should be something of a corrective to modern conceit to note how little we have advanced since paternalism first became dominant in Rome and since the Roman government prided itself on opening public baths and washhouses for the people. Diocletian denounced the rich and their luxuries, attributed to them the high prices of necessities, in language almost identical with a radical newspaper of today. Plautus tells us of the trusts that were founded to control prices, and the 'trust problem' was as much a reality in ancient Rome as it is today.

"Capital and labor were highly organized, and labor was indefatigable in its efforts to secure special privileges for its guilds. There were benefit societies, burial societies and insurance societies. The man in the street talked then just as he talks now. He discussed the claims of rival political candidates, he studied the political platforms, he read the advertisements in public places, and he protested against their defacement of the scenery. It is indeed hard to find a single feature of modern life, a single reform, a single problem, without its counterpart in ancient Rome.

"We have even borrowed the Roman slang. A slave in a play of Plautus says: 'Do you catch on? (tenesi. 'I'll touch the old man for a loan' (tangam senem, etc.), or 'I put it over him' (eo sublevis). The illiterate Roman used the double negative, just as it is used today. 'You ought not to do a good turn to nobody' (neminem nihil boni facere oportet).

Destroying Childish Confidence.
"Alexander was a great man, wasn't he, pa?"

"Yes, Willie."

"And so was Hannibal?"

"Yes."

"And Caesar and Napoleon and Washington?"

"Yes."

"They wuz great fighters, wasn't they?"

"Yes."

"But you could lick 'em all, couldn't you, pa?"

Pa looked around nervously.

A feminine voice is heard from an inner room.

The voice: "Willie, your pa couldn't lick the fuzz from a sick Teddy bear!"

And a painful silence ensued.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FOR YOUR HAIR.

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

But when the hair roots retain any life, we believe there is nothing that will so surely promote hair growth as will Rexall's Hair Tonic.

To prove that statement, we promise to promptly return all the money you pay us for Rexall's Hair Tonic should it not please you.

Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic destroys the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and, by promoting circulation, nourishing them.

Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic helps to relieve scalp irritation, to remove dandruff, to prevent the hair from falling out, and to promote an increased growth of hair. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00.

Remember, you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store.

WIRELESS AND RADIUM SHOW

Demonstration of Wireless Telegraphy to Be Made at High School.

Our city will soon have a modern wireless telegraph station in full operation. Contracts have been closed with Eastern managers to have complete apparatus, transmitting and receiving stations, batteries, etc., to be brought here and put in working order by an expert, Wm. B. Patty.

He will come April 19 and on that night at the high school auditorium will send and receive wireless messages in full view of the audience, ring bells at a distance, start motors, manipulate signals and electric lights and give a comprehensive demonstration of the present uses of this much talked of discovery, as well as explaining its future possibilities in warfare, train dispatching, etc.

On the same evening he will also show the wonders of radium and
