BUELAH BROWN DEAD.

Girl Born and Raised in La Grande Passes Away in South.

Word received this morning from Los Angeles contains the sad intelligence of the death of Miss Buelah Brown, aged 19 years, last Thursday. Interment occurred last Saturday. The deceased was a popular girl of La Grande during her childhood and she spent several weeks here last year with her aunt, Mrs. Fred G. Schilke and other relatives. She returned to her mother's home in Los Angeles in company with Mrs. Schilke and has lived there since. She grew up in this city and besides her relatives, had a large host of friends in La Grande who regret exceedingly the untimely death of the young lady.

Major league clubs all along the line are reducing the number of 25 cent bleacher seats. It is only a question of time when the two-bit boys will be a thing of the dim past.
