Important Notice

To

Bankers, Merchants, Manufacturers and Residents.

A complete up-to-date Metropolitan City Directory is now being compiled under expert direction, exclusively for La Grande. It will not embrace other portions of the county. La Grande is large enough, prosperous enough and sufficiently important to demand an up-to-date City Directory. Other cities of less importance and smaller population in Oregon have theirs. Why not La Grande?

The New Directory will contain accurate information of all character appertaining to this City; in other words, it will be a complete Directory containing the names of every resident of La Grande, showing his or her occupation together with their specific place of business and residence.

The publishers will place this valuable work upon the market at the low price of $1.50 by subscription only.

Business men will readily recognize the great value of using the La Grande Directory as a most profitable advertising medium.

REVIVALS AT CHRIST CHURCH

REV. WINGO HOLDS AUDIENCES WITH SERVICES.

Two Baptized Last Night—Will Continue Through the Week.

The revival meeting at the Christian church is growing in interest. Dr. Wingo baptized two last night, a man and his wife. Others are expected tonight. Dr. Wingo announced last night that he would preach by request tonight on "Memory in the World to Come." The sermon last night on "The Stone of Stumbling" held the attention of the audience throughout. Dr. Wingo employs no clap-trip, no sensational methods of any kind, but his sermons appeal very strongly to the intelligence and reasoning faculties of his audience. His illustration illustrate. He may possibly remain here through next week.

A Human Salamander.
Chabert, the fire king, who was a popular favorite in London, eighty years ago, claimed to be able to swallow arsenic and other poisons with impunity. Visitors to his entertainment were requested to come provided with phosphorus, prussic acid, arsenic and oxalic acid, which he proceeded to consume before their eyes, taking an antidote afterward which was supposed to neutralize their effects. Then, to show that he was as impervious to heat as to poison, he would take a raw leg of lamb into an oven heated to 220 degrees and remain inside until the joint was cooked, when it was carved and handed around to the audience. The performance concluded by Chabert rubbing a red-hot shovel on his head and face and allowing any one who wished to drop molten sealing wax on his tongue and hands.

Hats and Occupations.
In some parts of the world the silk hat is still the professional headgear of the chimney sweep. About a dozen years ago the writer constantly observed this in Wurtemberg, and last year he found the same combination in Switzerland. The mysterious relations between the hat and occupation, convictions and recreations, would make an interesting study. At one time the politician who wore a white hat proclaimed himself a Radical. Nowadays he would probably be suspected as an old-fashioned Tory. Then no self-respecting cricketer would have appeared without a tall hat in former days. But Mr. Jenner-Fust has recorded how he and others were compelled to drop the habit in the twenties and thirties by the spectators' jeers at "post boys."—London Chronicle.

Before the Breakaway.
Two heavyweights had gone on for a preliminary, both willing and eager, but hopelessly ignorant in the craft of the game.

One of the first grapples brought the pair to their knees, and neither knew how to make a move which should be both aggressive and defensive. They were head to head—literally at loggerheads—and remained in this position for a minute.

The lull gave the comedian in the audience a full stage.

"Well," he shouted, "what is the secret?"—Chicago Post.

Clever Girls in 1797.
Some of the accomplishments formerly imparted at genteel academies would hardly meet with the approval of modern educational authorities. A writer in the London Times of Nov. 2, 1797, states that "at some of our first boarding schools the fair pupils are now taught to play whist and cassino. Among their winning ways this may be not the least agreeable to papa and mamma. It is calculated that a clever child by its cards may pay for its own education."

Did His Best.
She—After six weeks of married life, Arthur, I have reached the sad certainty that you do not love me. Arthur—My dear! She—it's no use protesting. You should have married some credulous, stupid girl! Arthur—Well, darling, I did my very best.

Somebody's Magnesian.
Mrs. A.—What did your husband say when he saw the bill for your new gown? Mrs. B.—I didn't hear. I started to play on the piano.—Boston Transcript.

"Facts are stubborn things" is an aphorism first used by La Sage in "Gli Blas." It has become proverbial.
