Definite announcements will be made tomorrow of the further policy of the La Grande baseball team. Seven fans nominated at the meeting last Monday night to formulate some new method of procedure that will bring the cellar champs toward the top with a better ball team, will meet tomorrow morning at which time T. H. Crawford will have returned from Portland and G. A. Lincoln will be home from Pendleton where he is attending a revision of the schedule meeting to give La Grande time to build her park. Telegrams by the score are piling up here from out of town ball players of more or less repute and when the baseball organization is formed, it is believed there will be liberal additions of high priced men to the club pay roll and blue envelopes are likely to be slipped to not a few.

La Grande Loses Yesterday.

Pendleton, May 23.—(Special)—Outplayed, outfielded, outhit and outgeneralized La Grande lost to Pendleton yesterday, score 6 to 0. McInnis was on the hilltop for La Grande but was unable to withstand the onslaught, and White, the new catcher, is said to be but little better, or as good, as the former backstopping staff.

The visitors never had a chance from first to last. Osborne, the local flinger, had them completely at his mercy. But three hits were garnered off his delivery. The Buckaroos hit the ball hard and were aided in the run column by costly errors of their opponents.

The first score came in the opening inning by two hits and a passed ball, while a couplet was annexed in the second by virtue of an error. Pembroke's three sacker and August, single. One more was garnered in the fifth by a hit, an error, a passed ball, and a wild pitch. Two were chased over in the sixth through two hits and two errors.

And The Other Fellow Owns My Home

It does seem strange that some people permit themselves to get into one rut and there remain.

This week a man came into my office, whom I thought owned his home and when I asked him how long since he purchased, he replied, "Why, I have lived in La Grande for the past twelve years and never bought. I have sometimes thought I would but it seemed I never got to it."

Inquiry revealed the fact that this man has paid on an average of $20 per month, which means that he has paid out $2,880 and has nothing to show for it.

Had my friend invested soon after coming here he would today be living in a $2,000 home all paid for. Not only that, he would have been a better father, a better husband and a better citizen. The possession of a home creates an independence that no one can possess in a rented property.

We dare say there are no less than fifty people in La Grande today who occasionally think about buying a home but keep on paying the other fellow when if they will come to my office I will show them how easy it is to save this constant drain on the family purse.
