

LA GRANDE HIGH SCHOOL A MODERN INSTITUTION IN EVERY PRINCIPLE

Grade children as well as high school students hear standard classical renditions from Columbia Graphonolas, used in all departments of the school to instruct and sharpen the taste of the best music.

The main corridor of the high school building—recently adorned with busts of history-making men of the past. The walls are ornamented with master paintings.

Manual training students at work—notice that girls are anxious to develop hand and brain simultaneously.

SCHOOL YEAR HISTORY NOW

LAST "SCHOOL NOTES" FOR THE YEAR.

Closing Review of Week's Activities in City School Work.

The school term is "gone; yes—well done. It seemed at first as though the public at large was very deeply interested in school affairs. After these school notes were first printed, however, the people came to look for them and, if placed in some obscure corner of the paper, demanded, "Where were last week's school notes?" For a while, from this issue until Sept. 9, we shall suspend this phase along with the school work. Schooling, however, will not entirely cease. Prof. Stout will conduct a summer school. The first three weeks it will be as a teachers' training for those who will try for teachers' certificates at the June examinations. Later those who failed or were not able to enter into the last eighth grade exams will be given a chance to make up their work here.

Miss Muriel Moss won the shorthand prize in the contest last week. The contest dictation was given at about 80 words per minute and was so closely followed by the contestants that it was difficult to pick the winner. The prize won by Miss Moss was a "Complete Course in Court Reporting," in the Gregg system.

Thursday afternoon Misses Thompson and Bunnell gave a picnic to their classes. Place on the hills. Everyone reported a comfortable time with respect to locality.

Misses Allen, Fruit and McMillan left Friday for the east where they will spend their vacations.

The teachers are on the rush making out grades.

DE LEON AND DAVIES DANCING

Combination of Ballet Steps, Delart, Buck and Wing Form Novel Dances

It required months of constant effort on the part of Walter de Leon and Miss "Muggins" Davies to perfect the various difficult dances which they execute so cleverly. Mr. De Leon, who by the way, is somewhat of a genius, being only 24 years of age and not plans every dance number, studied for his musical comedies, but also only writes book, lyrics and music the terpsichorean art for a long time before he attempted to plan any dances. He read volume after volume relative to dancing and then studied Delart and after he had mastered the rudiments of the art, began putting his knowledge into practice. At the present time, Miss Davies assists him in the preparation of all their dances and at times actually works out dance steps and helps with suggestions that are invaluable. Mr. De Leon is first of all an eccentric dancer. Small wonder, then, that he has worked into classic poses some of his own eccentric ideas. One of the most difficult dances which the young couple do is a combination of ballet steps, Delart poses, buck and wing and double shuffle. To say the least, the dance is one which requires skill and grace as well as muscular development on the part of Mr. De Leon for he is called upon to support the entire weight of his dancing partner numerous times during the evolution of the dance. In the specialty number, "The Same Old Love," which Mr. De Leon and Miss Davies do in the second act of "The Campus" they dance and illustrate, although in a small degree a Scottish reel, a sailor's hornpipe, a French cancan, a stately English waltz, a Texas Tommy and a German dance.
