MONEY ISSUES ARE DISCUSSED

JOSEPH D. LEE INCITES INTEREST IN BANKING REFORM

Need of Monetary Laws Revision Is Pointed Out—Audience Large.

Monetary reforms such as are needed in the United States and fathered by the National Citizens league, were discussed with much interest last night at Honan hall by Joseph D. Lee, secretary for Oregon. John Collier was made vice president for La Grande. A large representation of business men heard Mr. Lee through his arguments and discussions on the topic.

He reviewed the recent efforts made in congress and by the national board of trade for a revision of our banking and monetary laws. The panic of 1907 was purely a monetary panic brought on by the inability of the New York reserve banks to honor the drafts of the western banks on their reserves. Money in New York is loaned on stock and bonds upon call.

When any disturbance occurs and the brokers cannot meet the call interior and western bankers are greatly inconvenienced or what is worse, menaced by a panic.

In Europe there has not been a panic for half a century. A commission was appointed in 1908 of nine representatives and nine senators who have carefully studied the question and prepared a bill, which Senator Burton introduced January 11, 1912.

That or a similar bill should be passed promptly and the league composed of business men, is at work to that end.

Much interest was manifested by the audience in asking question relative to the new law. After adjournment, the members selected John Collier as the vice president of the district.
