HONG TUCK LAID AWAY.

Conservative Adaptation of Chinese Funeral Rites Seen by Many.

Perforated slips of paper through which evil spirits must, twist and crawl to reach the deceased and a string of coins—silver and nickel—this afternoon blazed the trail for the last journey of the body of Hong Tuck, the Chinese merchant who died two days ago. The interment was held from the Henry & Carr undertaking parlors where the rites and usages of the Chinese religion were exemplified before a motley throng of curiosity seekers. The mourners were unprofane with tears but atoned for shortcomings in the amount of kow-towing performed at the head of the coffin. The full orthodox series of rites was probably cut a little short by the intrusion of white people. Two slant-eyed women attended the services.

NO TICKETS FOR COLONEL

Harry New Refuses Request for 250 Convention Tickets.

Chicago, May 30.—Declaring he did so because he had not contributed towards the expenses of the national republican convention next month, Harry New, chairman of the national committee today turned down an application made by Senator Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager, for 250 tickets to the convention for the colonel's use. "Four years ago," said New, "Roosevelt received 250 tickets to the convention because he was the president. This year Taft receives 250 tickets and Roosevelt none."

Whole Family Dies.

Hannibal, Mo., May 30.—O. Kirtley, his wife and daughter and Crandall King were drowned today when a skiff capsized in the Mississippi river near here.

Eighty Hungarians Drown.

Buda Pest, May 30.—At least 80 persons met death today in floods of southeastern Hungary. The homes of hundreds of peasants were demolished and thousands of dollars worth of crops were ruined. It is feared the list of fatalities will be increased.

SLEEP AND REST.

Every Organ of the Human Body Has Its Periods of Repose.

All the organs of life rest in some way or other. The heart has an interval of rest between each combined act of contraction and expansion and the beginning of a fresh act. Between each expiration of the lungs and the succeeding inspiration there is a period of repose. Physiologists have calculated that the heart reposes during about one-fourth of the time. Certain of the other organs suspend their activity in part during sleep.

Old physiologists supposed that sleep was caused by the pressure of the blood on the brain. But modern physiology, with a tendency to regard the brain as the origin of all force and of all functions of the body, inclines to the view that sleep is caused by a withdrawal of blood from the brain.

As a rule, the larger the brain the more sleep it requires. Webster went to bed at 9 o'clock and rose at 5. General Grant used to say during his campaigns, "I can do nothing without nine hours' sleep."

A curious trait has marked men of large brain—that of sleeping at will. Bonaparte used to throw himself on the ground and go to sleep within a space of two minutes. Pitt was a sound sleeper and slept night after night in the house of commons while his colleagues watched the debate and roused him when it was necessary that he should speak.—New York Herald.

Good Business.

A famous pistol shot told a shooting story at a supper in San Francisco. "There was a party of amateurs here in Frisco," he said, "who thought they would do some live pigeon shooting, so they ordered thirty birds from a suburban dealer.

"The shoot came off duly. It was a wonder. To give you a correct idea of it I must quote from a letter sent by the dealer to the amateurs the next day. The letter ran:

"Gentlemen—I thank you for your order and beg to state that I will be only too happy to supply you with birds for all future shoots. The entire thirty pigeons, for which you paid me 15 cents a head, returned home safely and, moreover, brought two strays with them. My price to you hereafter will be 1 cent per pigeon."—Los Angeles Times.

The Drum of the Ear.

The reason deaf people cannot hear is that the drum of the ear is imperfect or has been destroyed. Sound is nothing but the vibrations of the air acting on the drum of the ear. When people are quite deaf it is because the eardrum will not respond to these vibrations, but they can still feel these vibrations even if they cannot hear them. When a number of deaf mutes are sitting in a room together and one wishes to attract the attention of another he strikes his heel on the floor, and every one in the room feels the vibration and looks around to see who called. In the large asylums for the deaf and dumb the doors are hung very loosely, so that if you shake them it sets up a vibration like stamping on the floor, and that is the way they wake up deaf people that sleep too late in the morning.

A Lesson in Gunnery.

For two solid hours the gunnery instructor endeavored to instill some faint idea of the subject down for discussion, but his stock of patience was ebbing.

"Now," he bellowed, "are there any of you budding Nelsons who don't know the difference between firing by electricity and firing by percussion?"

"One at least still needed further instruction on that point, and he said so. Then, like a clap of thunder, the instructor explained.

"If you got struck dead by lightning that would be electricity. See? But if I came over to you and gave you a clout over your fat head that, my son, would be percussion. Twig?"

The other saw and said so.—London Tit-Bits.

Automatic Cooking Boxes.

Automatic cooking boxes were in general use among the Hebrews nearly 2,000 years ago. The Greek and Roman writers frequently refer to them. In his edition of "Juvenile," for example, Friedlander cites a commentator who refers to "the Jews who a day before the Sabbath put their viands hot into the cooking boxes, the pots being covered with napkins and wrapped about with hay, so that they may have warm food on the Sabbath."

Pernicious Literature.

"Did you see that stout woman push that little man off the sidewalk?"

"Yes."

"What did she do it for?"

"Why, she's been reading somewhere that women are displacing men in all the walks of life."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Staking a Play.

"We'll have to give her a prominent part in the new play."

"But she can't act."

"That's all right. We'll fix her up with seven gowns. That will keep her busy in the dressing room most of the time."—St. Louis Times.
