THE BIG SHOW AT UNION.

Tomorrow begins the fourth Annual Live Stock show at Union, and it will be an event of great interest from several points of view. First, it will collect a great many of the best specimens of live stock in three counties; second, it will cause breeders to see each other's stock and learn of the different strains of blood by sight and personal examination; third, it will bring the people of three counties closer together because the Union Live Stock show has become a place of meeting.

The man who settled in Wallowa county the same year that some other man settled in the Grande Ronde will be present and they will discuss early days and early hardships. The man who entered Baker county in the days of the Auburn placers will meet some friend whom he has not seen for years. Thus will follow an exchange of pleasantries that makes life worth living, that brings out the sociable side of mankind. There is no hospitality like the early days' hospitality and Union people will endeavor to carry that brand along with their stock show. Everyone is welcome at Union, regardless of political, religious or any other belief. It is a time when the gates of the city swing wide open to all.

Tomorrow is La Grande day and a splendid program has been prepared, which appears elsewhere in this issue of the Observer. La Grande will be there several thousand strong. This city looks forward with much interest to the Union show and now that the roads are good there is no question as to the large attendance from here.

If Ismay were only a citizen of this country, the people could give him the solitude he desires, by electing him vice president.

CRAIG TRIAL IS NEAR END.

Circuit Court Will Be Ready for Next Case This Evening.

The trial of George Craig was commenced in earnest this morning and should be completed late this evening. A grand jury report has been anticipated all day and will probably be filed this evening.

W. C. T. U. POSTPONED.

Horse Show Conflicts and Date Is Set for Next Saturday.

The W. C. T. U. which was to have met with Mrs. F. H. Green tomorrow, has been postponed until Saturday. This is because of the horse show tomorrow when so many La Grande people will attend the stock show.

By the use of modern methods much of the dental work which is done today is painless and the balance is much less painful than heretofore. New anaesthetics are appearing on the scene and methods of operating which were not dreamed of a few years ago are employed by those who keep abreast of the times and greater service is rendered to the human family than was possible a few years ago. You no longer hesitate to have a nerve removed from a tooth for you know it can be done with so little pain that it is not worth mentioning.

We are ever at the service of the public.
