HINTS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIFE

Shade Support That Holds Roller and Curtain Pole.

A handy little device that is a curtain pole and shade support combined has been patented by an Illinois woman. A single piece of strong wire has one end cut into a screw point and the other end wound about until it forms an article of the shape seen in the accompanying illustration. The U shaped notch at the bottom is designed to hold a shade roller journal, and at the top are two loops of different sizes, the outer and larger of which holds the curtain pole and holds it far enough out that shade and curtain do not interfere with each other. With the screw point feature it is only the work of a moment to put one of these supports up, and the construction of the article makes it easy to screw into the window jamb by hand.

Mulligatwny Soup.
 Get a knuckle of veal, have the bones cracked in two or three pieces, put into a stewpan, cover with water and when it is more than half done cut off as much meat as you wish for the soup and boil the bones and remainder of the meat to make stock soup. Let this cool and remove the fat. Cut the meat into small pieces and fry in butter with four onions sliced and floured, two dessertspoon-fuls of curry powder, a little cayenne and salt. Put these into stewpan, add the stock gravy with three or four cloves and a good tablespoonful of lemon juice, let the whole simmer for an hour and serve with plain boiled rice in a separate dish.

Boiled Salad Dressing.
 For the salad dressing an excellent rule calls for half a cupful of vinegar and water mixed in equal parts, a tablespoonful of olive oil, a scant level tablespoonful of flour, a level tablespoonful of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of mustard, a dash of paprika and an egg. Mix the dry ingredients and rub them to a smooth paste with the oil and acidulated water. Stir the mixture over the fire until it is smooth and just before removing from the stove add the egg, well beaten. An equal amount of the dressing and of whipped cream makes a delicious dressing.

No End to Grabbing.
 Mopus—I suppose there will never be an end to land grabbing until everything is grabbed. Smith—Oh, not even then, because the people who haven't grabbed anything will be trying to grab what has already been grabbed.
