COURT OF ST. JAMES.

What a Presentation to English Royalty Means Socially.
There is no need for jealousy and excitement about presentations at court. Any respectable American girl can be presented at the court of St. James if she have sufficient influence with some lady who is even mildly persona grata at court. And when a girl or a matron has been presented then the matter ninety-nine cases out of a hundred comes to an abrupt end.

The social cachet amounts to no more than this—that the lord chamberlain has made an inquiry into your antecedents and found nothing in their history to cause comment. In the case of Americans the inquiry cannot be anything but perfunctory.

Some people imagine that a presentation at court is followed immediately by an invitation to the next state dinner or the next state concert or the next state tea and muffins. Nothing of the kind. You must attain or inherit great social importance or be representative in some way before the king and queen ask you to dine with them. Presentation is a pretty laborious and expensive ceremony, signifying to any one who is not in the inner social ring in London nothing.—New York Telegraph.

A COLOSSAL HARP.

Veritan's Aeolian Giant Had Strings 320 Feet in Length.
The largest harp ever made, so far as is known, was that invented and constructed by M. Veritan, provost of Burkli, near Basel. It was known as the gigantic meteorological aeolian harp. It was 320 feet in length and was erected in the garden of its inventor in 1787.

This harp consisted of fifteen iron wires, 320 feet in length, stretched between two poles. The wires were from two to three inches apart, the largest being one-sixth of an inch in thickness and the smallest one-twelfth of an inch. They were placed in the direction of north and south and inclined in such a manner as to form an angle of from twenty to thirty degrees with the horizon, being stretched by means of rollers properly disposed for the purpose.

Whenever the weather changed the wires sounded with such loudness that it was impossible to go on with a concert in the house. The sound sometimes represented the hissing noise of water in rapid ebullition, sometimes that of a harmonicon and sometimes that of distant chimes or an organ.—Exchange.

Paul Revere, Dentist.
Was Paul Revere a dentist? The following advertisement published in the Boston Gazette and Country Journal of Revere's time is believed to prove that he was: "Whereas, many persons are so unfortunate as to lose their Fore-teeth by Accident and otherways, to their great Detriment, not only in Looks, but speaking both in Public and Private:—This is to inform all such that they may have them replaced with artificial ones, that looks as well as the Natural & answers the end of Speaking to all Intents, by Paul Revere, Goldsmith, near the head of Dr. Clarke's Wharf, Boston. All Persons who have had false Teeth fixt by Mr. John Baker, Surgeon Dentist, and they have got loose (as they will in time), may have them fastened by the above who learnt the Method of fixing them from Mr. Baker."

Taft's Old Home Under Hammer.
Cincinnati, O., July 3.—The old home of President Taft was offered for sale at auction today. Since the president lived there the house has been occupied by several persons, the last owner going into bankruptcy, with the result that the property was ordered sold to satisfy the creditors.

Suffragette May Escape Kulle.
San Francisco, July 3.—That Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, the noted Colorado suffragist will not have to be operated on was the hope held out today by her physician, Dr. Cornelia DePey of Chicago. Mrs. Decker was stricken with intestinal trouble Saturday.
