CHERRY FAIR DATE IS SET

JULY SIXTEENTH IS DAY OF THE PERFORMANCE.

Enormous Crop Will Be Scanned to Get Best Exhibits.

Cove, July 8.—(Special)—July 16th is the day set for the annual cherry fair. The 19th was tentatively agreed upon earlier in the month but it has been found that cherries are assuming the tints that spell ripeness a trifle earlier than anticipated.

Cove is giving much attention to its show this year, and its exhibits will put to shame anything ever presented in Cove before for the crop is tremendously big. The Cove Commercial club is preparing to give that visitors that day a vision of revelation in the quantity and quality of cherries grown on the cherry lands this year. The crop is enormously big and it will require a small army of men to properly harvest the crop.

AT SHERRY'S.

"A Noble Red Man," an Indian love story, showing the great love of an Indian maiden for a suitor whom her father, the great chief, has scorned. A very strong dramatic picture enacted by the Bison company.

"Nothing Shall Be Hidden," the story of a poor inventor and his love. The inventor prevents a burglary in the home of his sweetheart and thereby hangs the tale.

"Cupid Through Padlocks," a very interesting comedy, and "The Flirt," complete a most interesting and well arranged program at Sherry's for Monday and Tuesday.
