THE COUNTY FAIR.

The Union County Fair association is endeavoring to secure the co-operation of farmers and business men in holding a successful agricultural fair and race meeting at La Grande in September, and we trust their efforts will meet with unqualified success. Those who can afford to subscribe to a reasonable amount of the stock will thereby show an intelligent interest in the county's advancement, while those who do not feel like subscribing can materially assist by exhibiting stock or the products of the field, garden or orchard. Union county needs advertising the fair is one of the best methods of placing its capabilities before intending investors and settlers. We trust the Elgin neighborhood will have a community exhibit at the Union county fair and suggest that H. H. Weatherspoon is a man well fitted to have charge of the work.—Elgin Recorder.

AT SHERRY'S.

Friday and Saturday this popular picture house offers to its patrons a very strong and interesting program, the feature picture by the Rex company, entitled, "The Voice of the Mire," the leading role being played by Marlon Leonard.

It is a labor picture setting forth the difference between capital and labor. Happiness was not the lot of the strike, it was bread; not contentment, but life. It was the constant struggle of the weak man against the might few, the inefficient millions against the incalculable one.

Their mouths were hungry, their hearts were red with rage and wrong—and their hands might have become that too—but for a girl.

A girl who knew sorrow's misery and pain's distress, a girl who knew the meaning of love of life and fear of death, and the torture of the destitution that exaggerates the one and aggravates the other. Like a Daniel of another sex, she championed their cause. She cautioned, encouraged, guided and guarded them. She taught them patience, forbearance and fortitude. She fought with a fierce, fiery devotion. She organized meetings after meetings, and from the platform she cried their truth to the world, and emphasized the neglected fact that they had as much right to live as he who took the work of their hands and gave them hunger for reward.

Her efforts were not in vain, as the conclusion of the story shows, which will be seen in picture form at Sherry's Friday and Saturday.

NEW PASTOR ON THE FIELD

ILLINOIS DIVINE CALLED TO LA GRANDE

First Sermon to Be Preached Tomorrow Morning—Likes Valley.

Dr. A. G. Lane, recently called to the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church of this city, arrived yesterday with his wife from Alton, Illinois. He is very favorably impressed with the city and with the valley and will take up his ministerial work at once. This church has been without a pastor since Dr. Seemann left in March, and it is to be congratulated on securing a man of Dr. Lane's ability as successor to Dr. Seemann. Dr. Lane will preach his first sermon tomorrow at 11 o'clock and the public is generally invited to be present. Mrs. A. L. Richardson will be the soloist for the day.

Want Resignation Held Up.

Los Angeles, July 27.—A telegram was sent today to President Taft demanding that he refuse to accept the resignation of Hanford and continue congressional investigation of the jurist's career by the Central Labor council of Los Angeles, following the passage of a resolution. The resolution urges simple resignation of the federal judge doesn't wipe out his past record and demands such punishment be meted out as the evidence

A Lion at the Plains.

"When seals were thought to die in balancing and to fall hanging, torches and ordinary burning coals were a duel at the command of a trainer we thought the highest point in that commercially valuable line of education had been reached," says a writer in a Berlin paper. "But a new first place has been created for a cross green seal. This educated member of the jaguar family rides a tiny bicycle at command and seems to enjoy the sport. He does many tricks for which professional riders receive applause. The same collection of anti and wonders contains a monster lion which is shown in a cage provided with a grand piano. A woman trainer enters, seats herself at the instrument and strikes a chord, at which the lion leaps upon the piano and glares at the pianist. Then she plays, and the lion roars in time with the music. What next?"

"Color Hearing."

Some persons associate particular colors with particular sounds. In a recent presentation of this subject to the French Academy of Sciences it was pointed out that there are two forms of this phenomenon. In one case the person has a sensation as if a transparent colored film, like a rainbow, appeared before his eyes when certain vowel or musical sounds strike his ears. In the other case letters or written words, representing the sounds heard, appear in colored tints. The tints are very definite and characteristic and do not vary with lapse of time, but two persons seldom associate the same colors with the same sounds.—New York Sun

JOSEPH TOWN SITE CASE

COMMISSION CONSISTING OF 3 CO. SURVEYORS REPORT.

Lost Old Corner Is Considered to Be the True One.

The report of the commission appointed by Judge J. W. Knowles, consisting of the county surveyors of Wallowa, Unatilla and Baker counties has been filed in the circuit court of Wallowa county. The Wallowa Sun thus proceeds to state the case: The case involves the title to a strip of land containing 17.6 acres claimed by Elizabeth Heaverne to be part of her ranch adjoining the town of Joseph on the east. In surveying out the original town of Joseph, it is claimed that the surveyor doing the work, was unable to find the true section corner, and started his survey from a point which he took to be the true corner, but which is now shown by the surveyor's commission to have been about 160 yards away from the correct corner as established by the government. However, the original surveyor proceeded to lay out the town in accordance with the supposed true corner, and the owner of the townsite, F. D. McCullr, sold the lots, supposing that his surveyor had made a correct survey.

As Mr. McCullr sold these lots under a warranty deed, he will now be called upon by the purchasers to make good on the warranty, and the mistake of the surveyor will cost him a considerable sum. Mrs. Heaverne will secure back 17.6 acres of land if the findings of the commission are accepted by the court. A peculiar feature of the case is the fact that the new line runs directly through a barn and cuts directly through the Catholic church grounds, leaving the church building just outside of Mrs. Heaverne's land.

It is considered to be certain that Mr. McCullr will attempt to have the finding set aside, carrying the case to the circuit court, if necessary.

Headless Woman Mystery Unsolved.

Woonsocket, R. I., July 27.—Henri Deslovers, who is being held for the alleged murder of Angèle Parmentier, was arraigned in court again today for a preliminary hearing. The man strenuously maintains that he is guiltless of the crime charged against him. Beyond the arrest to Deslovers on circumstantial evidence, the authorities have apparently made little progress towards unraveling the mystery surrounding the murder of the Parmentier woman, whose headless and nude body was found in the Blackstone river more than a month ago. The man Deslovers was arrested because he had lived with the woman and because he was reported to have been in her company when she was last seen alive on June 4. Where and how the murder was committed have not been determined. Every effort of the police to discover the head of the murdered woman has likewise proved futile.

Mrs. Ina Wright Herbst, the noted German grand opera star, who is sojourning with her talented husband at the Tom Wright home in Union, was a guest in the city this morning with Mrs. E. E. Bragg and while here consented to appear in La Grande under auspices of the Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church at some early date.
