UNCLE SAM'S "INDOIES." Training and Discipline That Prepare Them for the Navy. The pay of a midshipman is $600 per year, and this begins on the day of his admission to the academy. He at once spends $200 for clothing, bedding and other equipments, some of which are as follows: A rug for 70 cents, a hair pillow for 75 cents, six pillowcases for 72 cents and six sheets for $4.20. So it can be seen that his apartments will not be luxurious. He must deposit $60 when he enters, and this will be credited on the books of the pay officer to be expended by the direction of the superintendent in the purchase of textbooks, etc.

When he has been fully entered as a midshipman it is the aim of the officers in charge to educate the young man to become a competent naval officer, to become a master of the art of maritime warfare, to be a gentleman as well as an officer and to hold honor and duty to country paramount to everything else. The neatness in dress of the officer of the United States navy is universal, and only those who come in close contact with him can appreciate the change, four years at the Naval Academy will make in the habits, dress and manners of a young man, to say nothing of the excellent education he receives.

The midshipman has few luxuries in the mess hall. An iron bed, a commode, a washstand, a study table, a chair, a desk, a trunk, a wash tub, a hair brush, a comb, and if he has a picture of "the girl he left behind" it will be tucked inside the door of his room. The midshipman occupies a room alone. These rooms are in suits for two men, with a shower bath to be used by both.

IRVING'S STAGE EFFECTS. A Choice of Evils. Landlady Would Not Give Me to My Daughter to a Cooking School.

What Makes the Male Saphire? "It's a question," said the Saphire. "To say that 'clothes don't make the man' is a mistake."

"Did I say a third?" asked Irving. "Um—perhaps I did, perhaps I did, but what could I have had in mind? For me, I say—silence, light and—um—shall I say—stors? Remember that my boy actors. Silence, light and—um—actors—the third."

Named For His Satanic Majesty. It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that hardly a county in the British Isles is without some place or thing with the designation Devil, all of which prompts the thought that his Satanic majesty must be a holder of considerable amount of property on this terrestrial globe.

Undressing While Swimming. An authority on bathing and swimming advises that every boy and girl who is learning to swim also learns to undress in the water, so that in case of falling overboard from a boat there will be less danger of drowning.
