The Innocence of Curiosity.

The goose had been carried, and everybody had tasted it. It was excellent. The negro minister, who was the guest of honor, could not restrain his enthusiasm.

"That's no fine a goose as I ever see, Brodab Williams," he said to his host. "What did you get such a fine goose?"

"Well, nose, palson," replied the carrier of the goose, exhibiting great dignity and reticence. "When you preach a spiritual good sermon I never sees you what you got it. I hope you will show me de same consideration."—Popular Magazine.

So concentrated is the heat in an electric range that a new kitchen cabinet contains both a refrigerator and a range but a few inches apart.
