A Tea Party In the Ocean, the Latest Thing In Summer Fads

Photos by American Press Association.

MISS CHARLOTTE VAN CORTLAND NICOLL, a New York society girl and a niece of DeLancey Nicoll, a well known lawyer, is the originator of a novel method of entertaining guests at her family's summer home at Long Beach, N. Y. It is a tea party in the ocean. The idea has attracted wide attention and promises to be widely copied. Hygienically the fad will win praise from all quarters. It is safe and sane. Miss Nicoll devised a tea tray, a seaworthy craft with a high poop deck, to hold the teacups and commodious deck space forward and amidships for plates of sandwiches and cakes. The high poop deck protects the tea, and if a wave washes over the bow the success of the affair is not interfered with since the sandwiches need a little salt anyway. Miss Nicoll's tea parties are a regular Friday afternoon event. She and her guests swim for half an hour before the tray is launched. By that time the exercise has furnished an appetite, and the serving of tea in the water obviates coming out for a "bite."

PIONEERS OF EARLY OREGON VISIT "LAKE"

100 ANNIVERSARY OF DISCOVERY OF HOT LAKE TODAY

MEN AND WOMEN OF STATE PROMINENCE ARE GUESTS

Oregon Historical Association Secretary, Politicians and Pioneers of the First Water Spend Day at Hot Lake—Annual Gathering of Pioneer Association Blending With Festivities.

Hot Lake Sanatorium, August 8.—In commemoration of the centennial anniversary of the discovery of Hot Lake by the whites and in honor of the early pioneers who have built out of a wilderness the many orchards farms and cities in Union county the Hot Lake sanatorium is today the mecca of all the old settlers and many of their children. This is the annual gathering of the Union county pioneers and inasmuch as it is also the 100th anniversary of the time when the first white man found the well springs which have since become the famous health resort, Hon. Walter M. Pierce, president-manager of the Hot Lake sanatorium, has extended the hospitalities of the sanatorium to all the old settlers for the day. About 300 are in attendance. The morning was spent in relating the old camp tales of 50 years ago and in enjoying the company of old time friends and companions.

Many brought their own lunches and the spacious halls and ante rooms of the hotel and shady spots on the grounds were occupied with the lunchers and their cold chicken during the noon hour.

Among the principal speakers this afternoon will be Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton and George H. Himes of the Oregon Historical society, of Portland. J. D. Slater will relate some interesting incidents of early life in Union county. Tom Wright, president of the pioneers association, and Hon. A. B. Eaton of Union, Henry Rinehart of Summerville, Mrs. A. E. Eaton and others are among the distinguished members that are present. From La Grande are A. C. Huntington, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Hanna Rogers, Mrs. Slater and Mrs. Hays and settlers of the county. In all over 100 people from La Grande are present.

Mr. and Mrs. Black, parents of C. J. Black, the real estate man of La Grande, who are pioneers of 47 in the state of Utah are making themselves acquainted with the pioneers of this county.

This evening's program will probably be attended by many more from La Grande. The music for the day will be furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Herbst and Mrs. Edith Wright Phy.
