

WONDERFUL STRONG WOMAN A MARVEL OF GRACE AND BEAUTY

Lo! Your eyes may soon behold the old, weighs 210 pounds and moves as Superwoman. Her head is the head of a greyhound. Her form is fit for a mother Juno. Her presence you can think of kings and heroes. She is 25 years nothing small—only of large things.

like nature, motherhood and creation. She is as majestic as the sphinx, as pretty as a veltine, as sentimental as a German school girl and as wholesome as a great big slice of bread and butter.

She has the strength of ten ordinary men united with the silky, satin femininity of a hundred ordinary women—and she has stepped down from the dwelling place of the gods to do strong women stunts in the Barnum and Bailey circus.

Her name—it ought to be a sonorous string of syllables like Boudicca. In fact, if she had iron in her nature she might pose magnificently as the pale British queen in her war chariot, charging the legions of Rome. But her name is Katie.

Absolutely inadequate of course—Katie Sandwina. The Barnum & Bailey circus nobly tries to improve matters by announcing her as "Europe's Queen of Strength, Beauty and Dexterity," but even that respectful designation falls short of conveying the elemental grandeur which radiates from the personality of Superwoman Katie.

She was bred from a long line of professional strong men and strong women. Her father was the strongest man in Germany, Phillip Brumbach. He was six feet, six inches high and could lift 500 pounds with his little finger.

Delving a little further into the heredity of Katie Sandwina, Johanna, the redoubtable wife of Phillip Brumbach and mother of 16 children, including "Europe's Queen of Strength, Beauty and Dexterity," is the daughter of Johan and Katrina Nock, the former a professional gymnast and the latter a wire walker and all round athlete. Both are still alive, at the ages of 96 and 94 respectively. Phillip Brumbach's father was also a strong man, but was killed by an accident to a circus wagon. His father's father, Frau Katie's great grandfather, was a gymnast and owner of a circus, and lived to a green old age. And so on.

In fact for a couple of centuries or more, the mighty-muscled people of Bavaria have been intermarrying and turning out large families of great athletes, culminating in the gigantic and bawful young creature who now twirls her lord and master over her head twice a day in the great circus, which will be here on August 27, for an afternoon performance only.

Statue With Umbrella.

Some poor art is to be seen in this country in the shape of statues dedicated to the memory of great men, but no American enormity in this line quite equals that which was perpetrated by an English sculptor for the town of Reading. When the fellow townsmen of a certain George Palmer of that place decided to honor his memory they determined upon a bronze statue of Palmer, which should be not merely a portrait as to features, but a correct presentment of him as he appeared among them every day. Accordingly, the stranger in Reading is startled by the most unconventional of statues, with every crease and wrinkle of the homely attire of the original reproduced. To complete the effect the statue is bareheaded, with silk hat and umbrella in hand. It is thought that this is the only instance in which the necessary but not entirely beautiful umbrella has been reproduced in bronze.—New York Sun.

He Fooled Her.

"If you were asked to get ready to start next Thursday on a long journey do you think you could do so?" asked her rich employer, who was a widower.

"Oh, I—much would depend upon the kind of journey it was to be," she replied.

"I mean a pleasant journey—a journey that would last for a month or more."

"And should I have company on the journey?"

"Well, I hadn't thought of that. No, I don't believe you would. I should expect you to go alone."

"Then I don't believe I could get ready," she said turning to her typewriter and making four mistakes in the first line of the letter she had begun.—Chicago Record-Herald.

One Thing Lacking.

"She has violet eyes, rosy cheeks and a lily white throat."

"Yes. She'd be all right if she didn't have a voice like a raspberry bush."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Judging by the Effect.

She—What was it the choir just sang? He—From the appearance of the congregation I think it must have been some kind of a lullaby.—Laughter.

I hold that one to be the best dressed whose dress no one observes.—Thackeray.

Thrice Wrecked in One Week.

In 1883 as the schooner Albatross was driving east across the Banks in a murky storm she met her end from a low lying berg. Of her crew of ten only two escaped, having cut clear the dingy and launched it safely. Next day they were picked up by the fishing schooner Energy, making for the Newfoundland coast. Driven south by bad weather, she sighted, two days later, the steamer Liddesdale, with a load of cotton. She agreed to take the east-aways, and to closing with the Energy sank her, but saved her crew. Thirty-six hours later the Liddesdale herself went ashore near Cape Race and became a total loss. Thus the two men were wrecked three times in one week—berg, steambot and rock.

The Servian Swineherd.

In any Servian village there is only one swineherd, and he leads all the pigs of the community. In the morning he goes through the streets blowing his horn, and the pigs come out of their own accord and fall in behind him and follow him to the pasture. At night he brings them home, and they disperse to their sties in the same orderly way as they pass the houses to which they belong. They require no attention and no singling out.

Domestic Science.

She—Here is a woman who says the only girl to marry is one who has been taught domestic science. He—What sort of education is that? She—It's the sort that turns a kitchen into an experimental laboratory and makes the garbage can a retort of waste tissues and discarded caloric.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Graduates.

"You and Bilgewater were boys together?"

"Yes. There was a time when we were satisfied with a cream puff between us, but now he wants a baseball franchise and I long for a private yacht."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Impatience.

In all evils which admit a remedy impatience should be avoided because it wastes that time and attention in complaints which if properly applied might remove the cause.—Johnson.

DISTRICT TO HAVE EXHIBIT

IMBLER FRUITGROWERS, UNION BUYS MANY BOXES.

Potato Warehouse Going Up—Other Interesting Imbler News Items Imbler, Aug. 20.—(Special) — Imbler's district exhibit at the county fair this year will be the very best that the alert and progressive citizens of this fertile apple district can make it. A committee consisting of C. D. Dorenberger, G. L. Sawyer and Geo. L. Cleaver has the exhibit business in hand, and will arrange a splendid exhibit.

The Imbler Fruit Growers' union will offer a prize at the county fair for the best packed five boxes of commercial apples. Members of the union are barred from competition.

Substation Is Bid For.

The Eastern Oregon Electric Light and Power company is asking for bids for the construction of the substation at Imbler.

The big flour mill improvements have been completed and wheat is now pouring in from the fields.

Fruit Boxes Purchased.

The Fruit Growers' union have bought 40,000 boxes and 40,000 labels for this season. The new label is a beautiful thing—a large red apple on a blue background with Grande Ronde valley across the top in large type and Imbler District at the bottom.

Potato Warehouse Promising.

The big warehouse for potatoes and fruit will be started next week. It will be 60x120—two story and probably all of concrete.

The bonds for the $20,000 school building have been voted and bids are advertised for. This will be a modern school building.

Easy to Get Relief

From Indigestion

Your stomach should digest the food you eat, without the aid of any artificial digestives. If it won't do that, then you are continually subject to dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, headache and constipation.

Instead of taking digestive medicines, take steps to get your stomach and intestines again in a healthy, natural condition. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge will do this for you if you will take it regularly. It is not a digester of foods, but it will restore your stomach and intestines so that they will attend to their natural functions, digesting what you eat and giving strength to the body.

For more than eighty years thousands of men and women who had suffered the pains caused by dyspepsia and indigestion have been praising this Tonic as the only remedy which brought them permanent relief. As the Tonic acts directly upon the stomach and intestines, it is a natural appetizer and strength builder.

Many forms of supposed indigestion are the result of intestinal parasites, for which Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed. Insist upon Jayne's; accept no other. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. J. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.
