HAISTEN OWNS HELPING STORE

HOME-FURNISHING PLANT ASSUMES PROPORTIONS.

Doubly Repaid by Aiding Man With Small Means.

A furniture and house-furnishing establishment that is taking its rightful place as one of the leading institutions of Eastern Oregon is the F. D. Haisten concern. Mr. Haisten has been in La Grande for several years. He started as all start, in a modest way, but his energy and constant application to business has builded a business that is a credit to large capital and a direct monument to his personal ability.

Where the Haisten store used to buy goods in small quantities, shipped by local freight, now it buys in carload lots. This fall has marked an epoch in its career. The store on Fir street has been remodeled so that every inch of floor space can be utilized and the building is filled to overflowing with standard goods.

One of the strong features of Mr. Haisten's business system is his disposition to help along the man who has only a few dollars and at the same time create good healthy business for his store. Any person who is honest and honorable can go to Fred Haisten for a housekeeping outfit and get it if he only possesses a very few dollars. He sells the goods on easy payments and according to records he has been one of the most lenient men in the country to deal with.

"I like to help the other fellow," said Mr. Haisten to an Observer reporter several days ago, "not that I can afford to help him at my own expense, but I have arranged my business so that I can give time which after all is worth some times a great deal more than money. Any person who is on the square can come here and do business with a small payment down. He can get everything from a rocking chair to a cook stove and a bed for the baby. I am never quite so happy as when I go to the home of some man whom I have assisted to get a house-keeping outfit. Of course there is the business end to it, but there is also a sweet satisfaction in living when you can render assistance to your fellowman."

What Roosevelt Did as President

Philadelphia North American.

What did Roosevelt do as president? Every day we are requested to print something of his record of achievements. Roosevelt accomplished more real constructive work as president than any other man who ever was in the white house. But his greatest work was his leadership of the nation to new moral standards in business and in public life.

Some of the more notable achievements of President Roosevelt in opposition to the combined forces of big crooked business and crooked politics are:

- Doillver-Hepburn railroad act.
- Extension of forest reserve.
- National irrigation act.
- Improvement of waterways and reservation of water power sites.
- Employers' liability act.
- Safety appliance act.
- Regulation of railroad employes' hours of labor.
- Establishment of bureau of corporations.
- Pure food and drugs act.
- Federal meat inspection.
- Settlement of the coal strike in 1902.
- The government upheld in Northern Securities decision.
- Conviction of postoffice grafters and public land thieves.
- Directed investigation of the sugar trust customs frauds, and the resultant prosecution.
- Suits begun against the Standard Oil and Tobacco companies and other corporations for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.
- Corporations forbidden to contribute to political campaign funds.
- Inauguration of movement for conservation of natural resources.
- Inauguration of movement for improvement of conditions of country life.
- The Panama policy and action which made possible the most colossal work of all time.
- During his term in the white house President Roosevelt was the most conspicuous friend of peace in the civilized world, and won the Nobel peace prize. Among his achievements in that line were:
 - Second intervention in Cuba to establish peace.
 - Alaska boundary dispute settled.
 - China saved from partition and policy of open door established.
 - Twenty-four treaties of general arbitration negotiated.
 - Negotiations opened by which Russo-Japanese war was ended.
 - Avoidance of bad feeling with Japan over exclusion policy.
 - Among the policies urged by President Roosevelt, to whose leadership the public sentiment in these matters is largely due, are:
 - Reform of the banking and currency system.
 - Inheritance tax.
 - Income tax.
 - Passage of a new employers' liability act to meet objections raised by the supreme court.
 - Postal savings banks.
 - Parcels post.
 - Revision of the Sherman anti-trust act.
 - Legislation to prevent over-capitalization, stock watering, etc., of common carriers.
 - Legislation compelling incorporation under federal laws of corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

The Difference.

Another Farm to be Subdivided by the Geo. H. Currey Real Estate Agency.

I have the 520-acre farm of E. W. Oliver for sale as a whole or can sell a separate 80-acre tract, two 120-acre tracts and 200 acres, which include the improvements. The price is $100 per acre, one-third cash, the balance on five and ten years. This farm is all high grade sandridge land, in the midst of the choice fruit section of the valley, commercial orchards on all sides of it.

The improvements consist of a large barn that cost $1800, which cannot be duplicated today for the money; seven-room house; deep well, 465 feet inexhaustible supply, 5000 gallon tank. One half mile from Valaria school house, R. F. D., one mile to Conley station where two large warehouses are located; seven miles from La Grande; splendid roads at all times of the year. Mr. Oliver is now residing in Portland and has placed a price on this farm that will interest all who know values.

I have sold two 80-acre tracts on the 960-acre farm which I am subdividing. The price on this tract is $60 per acre. You can pick out what you want. The land speaks for itself. The crop this year shows investment. The 160 acres, with improvements, 40 acres in alfalfa, can be bought for $65 per acre. Most liberal terms.

The Silas Koger 240-acre farm in Cove, one of the choice homes in the county is on my list.

80 acres north of the Iowa school house, a beautiful tract well improved; price $8000.

80 acres east of Island City, rich bottom river land that is well worth the price asked. $75 per acre.

80 acres near Summerville for $3500. In fact the owner is not living on it, does not expect to, and this price can be shaded a little.

40 acres near Summerville, well improved, for $2650.

30-acre farm, near city, for $4500.

20-acre farm, near city, for $4500.

24-acre farm, near city, $6000.

80-acre farm on Ladd Creek, $6000.

160-acre farm, just south of city, $8000.

I have sold seven farms during the last 90 days and the above is only a partial suggestion of my listings. Come in and let us give you detail descriptions, photographs; in many instances some exceptionally easy terms.
