OPENING OF THE FOLEY GRILL

Tonight Extended Service Will Be inaugurated.

An index to La Grande's constant growth is indicated by the high service to be established tonight at the Foley grill when that popular place will give service until 1 o'clock a. m. "There's nothing too good for the La Grande people," said Proprietor P. A. Foley, "this city is going ahead rapidly and the grill is going to keep abreast of the city's advancement."

INDIANA FOR TEDDY.

Union Man Writes From Indiana That Colonel Is Popular.

R. J. Kitchen of Union, has found, after an extended tour through Indiana that the Marshall state is warm for Roosevelt, and Mr. Kitchen says in a letter to County Chairman A. S. Geddes: "Indiana is sure going for Roosevelt." Mr. Kitchen is making an extended tour and has sounded the political feeling closely.

Idaho and Utah Look Good.

W. R. Kivette, lumberman of this city, returned yesterday from a week's visit among his customers in Idaho and Utah. He says the crops are good in that country, business brisk and everyone is seemingly in good spirits. "You would never know there was a presidential campaign on," said Mr. Kivette, "from the way business is moving along. Every community has some irrigation project or other improvement that it is working and things look good."

Mr. Kivette attended the Boise fair and reports a record breaking attendance.

89 TRAPPED IN COAL MINE

EXPLOSION SETS FIRE TRAP. PING MANY.

One Squad Reaches Surface Badly Burned and Exhausted.

Hobart, Tasmania, Oct. 14.—Weak, tottering and exhausted 76 miners, trapped by fire at the 1700 foot level in the North Mount Lyell mine, succeeded in reaching the surface. One died on reaching the top. Eighty-nine are still entrapped and efforts are being made to pump air to them. The smoke is pouring from the mouth of the tunnel and the motor pump blows out because of the fire.

The heat near the mine shaft is terrific. Bands of rescuers have been forced to return to the surface, overcome by heat and smoke. One man was found dead at the 500 foot level but the rescuers were unable to bring the body to the surface.

Five more dead were taken from the mine this morning, making six bodies recovered. There is little hope for the others in the mine.

Rescuers battle their way through the smoke and flames, but all their attempts to reach the victims failed until diving gear was pressed into service. This served as a protection from the terrific heat and after an awful struggle, the bodies were recovered. Although air is being pumped down to the 700 foot shaft, where the entombed men are, little hope of rescuing any of them alive is now entertained.

TRAMPS OF THE SEA.

Their Work in Developing the Ocean Carrying Trade.

There are land tramps and sea tramps, but whereas the former lives by the labor of others, the world's business would be in great straits were the latter to be swept from the face of the ocean. While there have practically always been tramp ships since men have sailed the sea, it remained for the Yankee skippers to develop this phase of ocean carrying to its highest degree. Tramping on the ocean is only another name for trading, and many are the stories extant of Yankee skippers swapping beads, mirrors, calico, knives and other trifles for ivory in Africa, and for commodities equally as valuable in other lands.

The tramp steamship came into existence during the war between the states, and it is to this type of vessel that England primarily owes her supremacy on the sea, she having encouraged the building of tramps more than any other nation. In times of peace they add to her prosperity, and where they enjoy a subsidy, as they do in some instances, they are used as transports and other auxiliaries in times of war.

Next to England comes Norway as a nation which encourages sea tramps, and as her maritime laws are more elastic than those of Great Britain, many British tramps are sold to Norwegian owners, who make them pay after they have outlived their usefulness under the British flag.—Marine Journal.

Rook and Crook.

BLOOD ATONEMENT WAS NECESSARY.

Failure to Understand This Leads Many to Unbelief.

Need of the Hour in Pulpit and Pew is a Correct Appreciation of the Value of Blood Atonement For Sin, Declared Pastor Russell at Lynn.

Lynn, Mass., Oct. 13.—One of Pastor Russell's discourses here today was from the text, "Without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins." (Hebrews ix, 22.) He said in part:—

The Scriptures declare that the life is in the blood (Leviticus xvii, 11); hence the shedding of blood represents death; and death may be spoken of as the shedding of blood, regardless of whether or not a single drop of blood be spilled literally. Thus the presentation of the blood of the sacrifices of old represented the offering to God of their lives as, typically, an offset to the forfeited life of Adam and his children, who lost life through his disobedience.

Israel's Atonement Sacrifices.

Each year, at approximately this season, the Jews celebrate their Atonement Day, by which their sins are thought to be covered afresh for the year begun. The underlying thought is a reminder that they are sinners, and that without the shedding of blood, without a sacrificial death, there can be no Divine forgiveness of sins.

For more than sixteen centuries Israel observed these typical Atonement Day services, up to the time that Jesus came. Since then the Jews can have no Atonement Day, really, because their priestly line is lost, and they have no Holy and Most Holy in which to make the Atonement, and no Shekinah Mercy Seat on which the blood of Atonement may be placed, and from which Divine blessing and forgiveness should proceed.

In their typical procedure the Day of Atonement included all the Atonement work of the priest on the tenth day of the seventh month. His Atonement sacrifice consisted of two parts—first, a bullock, which he slew, and afterward a goat, which he treated in like manner. He took the blood of the bullock into the Most Holy and applied it, not on behalf of Israel, but simply on behalf of the priestly tribe of Levi.

After accomplishing this he came out and slew the secondary part of his offering, the Lord's goat, which typified those consecrated to be his under-priesthood.

After treating the goat precisely as the bullock had been treated, its blood was taken into the Most Holy and there was sprinkled on the Mercy Seat, not on behalf of the tribe of Levi, but on behalf of all the other tribes—on behalf of "all the people," representative of all humanity—thus showing that eventually they will be brought into harmony with God.

"The Better Sacrifices"—Antitypical. In the type the bullock represented Jesus, consecrated to death, and dying and dead; and the high priest represented the Christ, spirit-begotten. Jesus, as the appointed antitypical Priest after the order of Melchisedec, offered up Himself—His human body—when He reached manhood's estate—thirty years. Gradually He fulfilled His baptism unto death, for three and a half years, completing it at Calvary. During His earthly ministry, as a Priest He was in the Holy, having fellowship with the Father. At Calvary, as Priest, He passed under the second veil, and in His resurrection arose on the other side of the veil, in the Most Holy—in the perfect spirit condition.

Our Lord remained for forty days to manifest Himself to His disciples, after which He ascended on high and presented the merit of His sacrifice (Hebrews ix, 24) on behalf of the Church, just as Aaron presented the blood of the bullock on behalf of his household, the tribe of Levi. The Divine acceptance of this merit on behalf of the Church was manifested by the giving of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. And this represents God's acceptance, not only of the faithful who were there, but all of the same class from then to the end of this Age.

Members of Jesus Still Dying.

The Scriptures set forth that the faithful few of Jesus' followers who will constitute the Royal Priesthood by and by have been represented as the antitypical Lord's Goat of the Atonement Day, which is caused to pass through the same experiences exactly as the antitypical Bullock, our Lord. (Heb. xiii, 11-13.) "If we suffer with Him we shall reign with Him."

The exalted High Priest, since Pentecost, has been slaying His secondary sacrifice—His consecrated followers—permitting them to thus represent Him in the flesh. While they suffer, the sufferings of Jesus are not completed—as He Himself said to Saul of Tarsus

What Does Baby Say?

This is a small reproduction of a large picture in our window. We want to know what Baby says. For the best answer, not over twenty-five words, we will give a Globe-Wernick Book Case free, which can be seen in our window. We do not know, ourselves, and we want to know and for the best answer, to be selected by three judges, we will give this handsome Book Case. You do not have to be a customer of the store. Everyone is invited to guess. But no one is entitled to more than one guess. The contest commences Oct. 15 and closes Oct. 31 and the prize will be awarded Nov. 5th. Ballot box at our store. Either bring your answer or send it by mail. Write your name and address plainly so the judges will have no trouble.

Take the paper, study the picture (or come to the store and see the large picture), then the family all make a guess, put your answers on separate paper and send it to our store and put it in the ballot box. This will be good pastime, a lot of fun for the family, and you may be the one who will furnish the best answer, and get this handsome book case.

Saw the Finish. Little Elmer—Mamma, I saw a man down at the blacksmith's shop making a horse. Mamma—You must be mistaken, Elmer. Little Elmer—No, I'm not, mamma. He had the horse nearly finished when I came by. He was just nailing on the feet.—Chicago News.

Matrimony. Matrimony resembles a pair of shears so joined that they cannot be separated, often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing any one who comes between them.—S. Smith.

Wasted Warning. "Remember, my son, that beauty is only skin deep," warned the sage. "That's deep enough for me," replied the young man. "I'm no cannibal."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Fidelity in little things is the indispensable training for greater usefulness.

Evident. "This car," said the demonstrator, "is almost human. Perhaps you have noticed?" "Yes, I have," said Binks dryly. "It reminds me of several men I know—been smoking ever since we left the garage, and the last bill we climbed it puffed like a porpoise. Haven't you something that is less human and more generally satisfactory?"—Harper's Weekly.

Why She Thought So. "Mamma," said the little girl, "sister doesn't tell the truth." "Why, Jennie," said the mother, "you mustn't say such things." "Well, last night I heard her say, 'Charlie, if you do that again I'll call mamma.' And he did it twice more and she didn't call."—Ladies' Home Journal.
