"ROBESPIERRE" STILL THE RAGE

SMART FASHION WINDOWS RUN THAT WAY.

News Briefs From Europe and the Continent.

Paris, Oct. 17.—"Robespierre fashions" are now all the rage. Every fashionable show room has the terrible epoch of the Terror under contribution for the winter modes.

According to Werth, the newest fall or made suit is tight-fitting in the chest and cut away at the waist, with long tails and fur at collar and cuffs. The coats are frogged and skirts striped. Overcoats of the period in black, with a short cape and collar and stock in blue, are also to be seen.

London, Oct. 16.—Convinced that battleship fuel in future will be oil instead of coal, the British admiralty is getting ready for the change.

Rosyth, the big naval base now building on the east coast of Scotland, is to be the principal oil depository—and incidentally, a great aviation depot. The principal Scottish refiners have been given contracts for fuel oil aggregating 200,000 tons, at 4½ cents a gallon.

Measures are also being taken to protect oil storage stations from air-men, one of whom succeeded in dropping a dummy bomb into a tank only 20 feet square from 1,000 feet aloft.

London, Oct. 17.—The ordinary inmates of his majesty's prisons are jealous of the privileges accorded the suffragette contingent, under recent orders from the home office.

"We do not disguise the fact," says the annual report of the prison commissioners, "that the large concessions made, and dispensations granted from what the ordinary regime entails have created much dissatisfaction among other prisoners who are not able to understand what must often be a nice distinction."

London, Oct. 17.—It was learned today that a new dirigible balloon is being constructed for the army on the Tynna, near Newcastle. Extraordinary secrecy has been maintained owing to the application of a new principle in the engines and a novel departure in the steering control, which will enable the airship to answer the name more readily in rough weather.

The new craft will carry four quick firing guns, a bomb dropping apparatus and accommodations for ten men.

Cairo, October 17.—After worrying for months over the increasing amount of counterfeit coin in circulation the police have finally located the source in Tourah prison. In an obscure corner of the institution was found a complete plant, and several of the inmates were discovered to be "coin-makers" of international reputation. It is believed a number of the prison officials are implicated.

Berne, Oct. 17.—Because a finger found caught in the door of a safe in a Berne store matched up with the stump carried in a sling by Friedrich Hoppe when he applied for treatment at a hospital in Berlin, the injured man is now awaiting sentence for burglary. Hoppe, after rifling the safe, accidentally closed the door on his little finger.

Belgrade, Oct. 17.—The jury at Shabats which tried Anton Hadgitch for jilting Marie Avramovitch decided his conduct was justifiable. Anton admitted that he threw his sweetheart over after he had learned that she was hrieffless and a poor housekeeper.

London, Oct. 16.—During her say at Deeside in the Highlands, Queen Mary has been learning to play golf. Her driving has been strong, but her daughter, Princess Mary, has described it as "occasionally wide."

Geneva, Oct. 17.—Jewelers here announce that the price of pearls will be increased 25 per cent this fall. The pearl's popularity has increased enormously in recent years, but the supply has been steadily diminishing.

STORY REFRESHINGLY NEW.

"Lion and the Mouse" Story to Interest Local Crowds.

A notable feature of Chas. Klein's "The Lion and the Mouse" which the United Play company brings to the Steward on Friday evening by the wholesome and distinct drawing of the various character in the play.

There cannot be found in the play a villain, a frivolous matron, a wayward girl nor an adventuress. Nowadays it is a rare occurrence to visit the theatre without having to hear the doings and misdoings of one or more such characters on the stage. Mr. Klein has displayed a keen knowledge of what is most desired by the public of today. The cleanliness of "The Lion and the Mouse" has been a huge factor in the remarkable success enjoyed by this interesting and well told story of certain phases of America's money world.

Addresses by Noted Educators.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The programme of this, the second day of the exercises in connection with the dedication of the New York State Education Building, included addresses by such noted educators as President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, Prof. William S. Myers of Princeton University, and Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation. Another notable speaker of the day was Canon Henson of Westminster Abbey, London, who spoke on the value of historical studies to the higher learning.

Second Trial of E. G. Lewis.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 17.—E. G. Lewis, the University City publisher and promoter whose troubles with the postoffice department attracted wide attention and resulted in a congressional investigation, was arraigned in the United States District Court today to stand trial for the second time on charges of using the mails to defraud. In the first trial of the case, which was held about a year ago, the jury failed to agree.

Now President of Amherst.

Amherst, Mass., Oct. 16.—The inauguration of Dr. Alexander Melkjohn, formerly of Brown university, as president of Amherst college was a great day for the institution. Many alumni and friends were present from all parts of the country. The inauguration exercises took place this morning in College Hall, following an academic procession through the college grounds.

The order of the inauguration exercises was as follows: Invocation by George Harris, president emeritus of the college; presentation of insignia of office by George A. Plimpton, president of the board of trustees; addresses of congratulation on behalf of the alumni, faculty and students; inaugural address by President Melkjohn; benediction by Prof. Arthur L. Gillette, D. D.

University, President Faunce of Brown University, President Hyde of Bowdoin College and President Garfield of William college. The new president of Amherst is forty years old and a native of England. In his youth he accompanied his parents to the United States and was educated at Brown University. He joined the faculty of his alma mater in 1887 as instructor of philosophy. Subsequently he became professor of logic and metaphysics and in 1901 he was made Dean of Brown University. This position he resigned some time ago to accept the presidency of Amherst.

UNCLE JOSH COMING OCT. 22ND

"Uncle Josh Perkins," described as a rural comedy drama in four acts with locales in New York and Vermont, is book for a return engagement of one night at the Steward on Tuesday, Oct. 22.

This is a play which has outlived its popularity in other offerings of its

Oh, How I Itched!

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of terrible agony—itch—itch—itch, constant itch, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—then—

Instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed! The very first drops of D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema stopped that awful itch instantly; yes, the very moment D.D.D. touched the burning skin the torture ceased. A 25c bottle proves it.

D.D.D. has been known for years as the only absolutely reliable eczema remedy, for it washes away the disease germs and leaves the skin as clear and healthy as that of a child. All other drugists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—if you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.
