SHOW SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

"THE LION AND THE MOUSE" IS IN CITY.

Theatrical Season to Be Ushered in
With Excellent Play.

The "Lion" and the "Mouse," which, combined and supported by a strong cast, make up the troupe, "The Lion and the Mouse," arrived in the city today in anticipation of producing that stellar show at the Steward tonight. The ticket sale has been brisk and the opening of the theatre season here tonight promises to be a brilliant one.

Charles Klein erected a monument to his ability as a dramatist when he wrote "The Lion and the Mouse," the play of love and political intrigue which has been so conspicuously before the public for the past three years. Mr. Klein struck an original idea when he selected the money question as the basis of the story. People of all stages of life have become well aware of the abuses in the possession of extravagant wealth, and when Mr. Klein pictured its misuses in dramatic form he immediately began to reap a reward such as few playwrights have received from a single effort. The United Play Co. will send "The Lion and the Mouse" tonight at the Steward.

'Uncle Josh' Next Up.

"Uncle Josh Perkins" the famous New England rural comedy, brought up to date and equipped with new scenery and effects, is to be presented at the Steward on Oct. 22. Few plays have lived as long as this amusing reproduction of farm life, and it is because of its naturalness, its wholesome humor, and its innocent pleasantry that "Uncle Josh Perkins" continues to delight thousands of playgoers every week, year in and year out. It is several seasons since this rural comedy has visited this vicinity, and its welcome should be all the greater for that reason. "Uncle Josh Perkins" will be presented by a carefully selected cast, and the world famous "Rube Band" will, as usual, be very much in evidence. The customary street parade, without which no rural comedy is complete, will be given at noon on the day of the performance.

Be cured to stay cured.
Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Grateful people testify.
Here's one case of it:
I. N. Peterson, Granite street, Sumpter, Oregon, says: "The public statement I gave in 1907 in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills was correct in every detail. I have taken this remedy several times since then and it has never failed to give prompt relief. For seven years I was badly afflicted with kidney trouble and was unable to work. Two years of that time, I had to use crutches when getting about. My back ached most of the time and my kidneys were badly disordered. Doan's Kidney Pills benefited me in every way and since learning of their merits I have told many other people about them."
