

TO THE VOTERS.
I am a candidate for the office of chief of police and solicit votes on the strength of my past record in suppressing crime and punishing criminals, and base my petition on a long experience in police matters. Insofar as honesty and determination will permit I will enforce, if elected, all city ordinances.
J. H. McLACHLIN.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of city recorder, and will deeply appreciate any assistance given me in the coming city election.
LEE WARNICK.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of city recorder subject to the will of the voters of the city of La Grande. Having been city auditor for the last three years I am thoroughly familiar with books and affairs of the city and can give entire satisfaction in this office which is of great importance to the taxpayers.
N. J. MANSAGER.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
I hereby announce myself as a candidate for chief of police and will deeply appreciate any assistance given me in the coming city election.

TAG DAY POSTPONED.
Tag day for the Y. M. C. A. originally set for next Saturday has been put off one week because of several salient reasons. However, this will allow interest in the campaign to spread and become more generally known so that the ultimate result will probably be greater than if it was staged next Saturday.

A FRIEND IN NEED
Just a Bit of Life as It Cropped Out on a Railway Train.

A TOUCH OF REAL HUMANITY.
The Rough Looking Man Who Provided That His Heart Was Big and in the Right Place and the Snappy but Grateful Foreigner He Befriended.

"Whenever I hear anything new days about 'man's inhumanity to man,'" said a Providence citizen the other day, "I am reminded of a little incident. I was coming back from Boston with a friend on the midnight train, and, getting on board at the Back Bay station, we found a seat near the rear end of the car.

"Soon after the train pulled out I happened to look around and saw the conductor apparently expostulating with a rather shabby looking specimen of humanity who was sitting in the last seat. At first I thought the man was drunk, but as I watched I saw that he was a foreigner who couldn't understand English. He was holding out a crumpled one dollar bill to the conductor and saying 'New York' over and over again.

"Finally the conductor shook his head, said something I couldn't catch and went on. The foreigner, a rather decent looking young fellow, gazed at him despairingly, then buried his face in his hands and began to cry. With the usual callous indifference of the traveling public to the troubles of any one else, I paid no more attention to the man and prepared to take a nap.

"I was just beginning to doze when I became aware that a man was standing beside me in the aisle, speaking to me. I sat up and looked at him. He was a rough appearing man, far from prepossessing, clean shaven, with a sort of bulldog face.

"'Say, gent,' he began, 'I want to know if you wouldn't like to help a feller out.'

"I stiffened instinctively, determined to refuse to let him make a 'touch.'

"'There's a poor young foreigner back there,' he went on with a jerk of his thumb toward the alien, still sitting with bowed head, 'and he's up against it for fair. He can't speak a word of English, and he wants to go to New York, where he has friends.'

"'He got the idea somehow he could do it for a dollar, all he's got; but, of course, he can't, and they're going to put him off the train when we get to Providence. It's mighty hard on a feller like him, and there ain't any telling what'll happen to him getting put off in a strange city at 1 o'clock in the morning. I thought maybe you'd be willing to give a little to help him along.'

"He stopped, looked us straight in the eye and smiled sheepishly as if he were ashamed of what he was doing. We gave him a dollar, and he went on through the car, and there were few of the passengers who didn't respond to the appeal. He came back counting the money, and as he got to our seat I heard him say:

"'There's a dollar more needed—I'll make it up myself' and he pulled out a couple of fifty cent pieces and added them to the amount.

"The conductor and the brakeman were standing at the door of the car near the foreigner's seat.

"'Here,' said the man who had collected the money to the alien; 'give me your dollar.'

"Dumbly, but trustingly, the young fellow handed it over, and, giving it to the conductor with the rest, the boy dog man said gruffly:

"'There's his fare.'

"It slowly dawned on the alien what had been done for him, and as the conductor punched the rebate check and handed it to him the gratitude in his face was indescribable. He couldn't speak, but he took his cap off and bowed again and again to the official but the latter pointed to the passenger who was sitting in his seat across the aisle and told the youth that he was the one to thank.

"The foreigner crossed the aisle till he stood squarely in front of his benefactor, took off his cap and, with tears of gratitude in his eyes, bowed again and again. It was evident enough that the benefactor was embarrassed by this unexpected outburst. At first he waved his hand around the car to indicate that everybody had had a hand in it. But he couldn't make the foreigner understand. The latter kept on bowing, whereupon the uncomfortable individual in the seat grunted and turned to look out of the window.

"'I have never seen,' concluded the man who was telling the story, 'a kinder—if I were a girl I should say a sweeter—act of charity in my life. Sitting across the aisle, this hard faced man had heard the story of the foreigner, helpless, alone and frightened, and out of pure goodness of heart, without any necessity for doing it, he had taken upon himself the ungrateful task of solving money from the rest of the people in that car to help out a man he'd never seen before and would probably never see again.'—Providence Journal
