ECCLES NOT CHOSEN.

Head of Baker Companies Will Probably Not Be Named Now.

According to relatives of the late David Eccles who have returned from Ogden no successor to the late millionaire manager of the local companies has been chosen as yet, says the Baker Herald. One of those intimates with the situation said this morning that he did not think it probable that a successor would be named until the first of next year when the annual stockholders' meeting is held.

A FRIENDLY CHIDING.

By Eugene A. Roach, La Grande, Ore.
As I stood upon Mt. Emily,
With my jack knife in my hand,
And viewed the wondrous landscape
And the city of La Grande.
My thoughts went back to days of yore
Before the white man came,
When only Indians roamed the hills
Which abounded them with game.
But no more the Indians roam the land,
Nor other hostile bands;—
Instead the white lights glimmer
In the city of La Grande.
Now 'tis lawyers, doctors everywhere
And motor cars galore,
Traveling men and millionaires
And fakers by the score.

Of course young ladies with feathered hats,
Have now become the rage
And college lads and mustachmit
Are wonders of the age
But turn back a page of history
When hard work was no disgrace
Who built your schools and colleges
But the man with whiskers on his face.

Now throw aside your vanity
Ye college lads and makers 'air
Although you wear your "Lah Lah" hats
And girls have rats entangled in their hair.
Tho' your father made some money
You are of the same old race
Your grandpa was a pioneer
With whiskers on his face.

ESTABLISHED 1891 ADAMS AVE.—Opposite U. S. and Office

W. H. Eccles of this city is still in Ogden helping to settle up the estate and it is not probable that he will return to Baker Hill after January first if he does then. As yet no will has been found of the late magnate's estate and it is likely that it will have to go through the regular course of law. W. R. Eccles is thought to be the most probable successor of his brother.

Joseph Barton, manager of the Sumpter Valley railroad and Oregon Lumber company returned from Ogden yesterday morning and is today out on the road. John H. Eccles, Sr., John H. Eccles, Jr., Roland Eccles, Stewart Eccles Charles Swinger and Dave Hyde returned last night. Mrs. Swinger and D. W. E. Baird are expected home soon. Mr. Baird probably in the morning. Mr. Baird was one of the pall bearers at the funeral of the deceased magnate.
