

RUN HUNT IS SUNDAY EVENT

PRELUDE TO HASENPFEFFER ATTRACTS.

Telocaset Feeding Grounds to Be Combed by Rabbit Hunters.

An edict has gone out—Br'er rabbit must die. Herman Roesch is to have another Hasenpfeffer. The royal invitation has gone out through the mails on birch bark paper and the initiated have answered the summons of the royal criers. The noodles are in hiding, big broad, fat German noodles, a la Herman Roesch, and the fireman has prepared the stoves for the big barbecue. On Sunday the huntsman will sound his horn and the buzzing wagons will take the men to the happy hunting grounds at Telocaset. "O, ye rabbits, prepare for the slaughter, for," said Herman. "I will have your luscious shanks for my dainty Hasenpfeffer. Then there will feast on your instruments of speed my favored guests of the 'Noodle Inn.' Hear me, you woolly padded denizens of the hills and tall grass, if you don't show up and put in your appearance to my huntsmen on the appointed day and present your bill of health to the chef, there will be war in Telocaset."

The hunters will number near a dozen.

PERSONALS.

George Kelly and family have moved from Walla Walla to La Grande and will again make their home here. Mr. Kelly is a telephone man and will be in the employ of the Home Independent Telephone company.

Mrs. George Jacobs of South La Grande has been ill the past few days.

Grover Farris of South La Grande is critically ill. He was seized with a stomach malady while on his way home from a Christmas dinner with relatives and is said to be in a precarious condition today.

A. R. Stoddard of La Grande went to Elgin this morning in the interest of the lumber business.

H. H. Bruce and his brother J. E. returned from the North Yakima country where they transacted business and met old friends. They left on the branch for their home in Enterprise this morning.

E. S. Gekeler of Elgin was in the county seat a few days on business.

He returned this morning. R. E. Hoyt and J. W. Baker of Palmer Junction returned to the scene of their labors in the camp this morning after spending the holidays in La Grande. J. H. Rudd of the local Y. M. C. A. went to Payette, Idaho this morning to attend the conference of Boys' clubs to be held at that place. He was accompanied by Leslie Little and E. R. Humphreys. Miss N. Rubinstein of Elgin returned to her home after spending a number of delightful days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Head of La Grande. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Charlson of Brigham City, Utah, passed through the city this morning on their way to Wallowa, where they will visit and meet old friends. Mr. and Mrs. John Brant of North Powder were homeward bound passengers this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Riggle and children of Elgin have just returned from an extended trip to Coffeyville, Kansas, where they visited at the home of Mrs. Riggle's sister, Mrs. Inman. Ed Hannon left last night for Huntington. He will return for New Years day. Miss Minnie Lynebarger of Hot Lake was in the city yesterday on business. Mrs. B. F. Marlin departed for Missouri last night, where she will visit home folks and meet old friends. Mrs. Alice Bell of Enterprise, one of the survivors of the McComas family of which there are only three living, passed through La Grande last night on her way to Union to visit at the home of Mrs. Thompson, her sister. She was accompanied by Miss Marie Denny and Master Roscoe Denny, her relatives. Mrs. Bell's brother was at one time the first editor in Union county and a man of many excellent parts. Mrs. Bell is also related to the late Senator McComas of Maryland. J. R. Carter of Enterprise, started on a long journey to Odessa, Mo., where he will visit his aged father and friends. He says it is thirty years since he saw the soil that grows the finest clover in the world, and picked butternuts and hazelnuts about which the Oregon born do not know very much. He will be gone about two months. He went in the company of Mr. Estes. J. C. Conley, superintendent of the Wallowa schools left last night for Portland to attend the county school superintendents' convention to be held at that place on the 28th of this month. From there he will go to Salem to act on the board of examiners. Mrs. Baird of Elgin returned home from Union this morning, after spending the holidays with friends and relatives.

Miss Ruth Dickey of Baker is the guest of Helen Currey of this city during the holidays. Miss Dickey was a former resident of La Grande. Sisters Honorata and Lavinia of the academy went to Joseph this morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Beaudoin. Father Driscoll of the Catholic parsonage was a passenger for the same place. Charles Engdahl of Helix and Pendleton is in the city looking for cattle. He is a cattleman of that section of the state and well known in La Grande. Mr. and Mrs. Boyer of Palmer Junction went to Alice this morning to visit at the home of Mrs. Johnson. During their stay in La Grande they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Melville. Mr. and Mrs. Foster are from Union. Mrs. A. G. Bull of Bartlesville, Okla., arrived in La Grande this morning to spend the winter with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bull of 1304 N. avenue. Miss Ethel Bean returned to North Powder after spending the Christmas holidays with her parents in La Grande. Miss Wise of Elgin was a homeward bound passenger this morning. Councilman J. C. Campbell went to Milton this morning to install the officers of the Masonic lodge at that place. Campbell is a member of that lodge. Mrs. McCall and Miss Carter of Cove were homeward bound passengers this morning. Miss Toney and Miss Scott of Baker stopped off in the city this morning. They will depart this evening for Spokane. Mr. and Mrs. L. Connors and their daughter, Mrs. Robert Mitchell and her husband, are guests with Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Connor. Their homes are in Prairiedale, Oregon. Don't laugh at the children for believing in Santa Claus and then put in an evening studying a mail-order catalog. May good fortune postpone the day when the children must look into a catalog instead of a shop window.

Edmonton Progressive.

Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 27.—William Short, K. C., a pioneer of Edmonton, who was chosen mayor at the election on December 9, announced today that the program of civic improvements decided upon for 1913 involves the expenditure of more than $12,000,000. The city already has $14,000,000 invested in its public utilities. Mr. Short becomes chairman of the board of commissioners, which is the administrative body of the municipality.

The construction program includes 30 miles of paving, 50 miles of sidewalks, street railway extensions costing $1,250,000, gas distributing system, street paving plant, extensive additions to the telephone, sewer, electric light and water systems, the development of gravel deposits and the establishment of a central market and warehouses, public library, power house, civic stables, bridges and parks. The final plans for city beautification also will be adopted and work started early next spring.

Mr. Short, who polled 61 per cent of the total vote cast, defeating W. J. Verrill, millionaire land owner, and Alderman Joseph Andrew Clarke, known in the Yukon as "the Lion of the north," has received voluntary pledges of the full support of the commercial, industrial and financial interests of Edmonton in carrying out his program, which is the most ambitious ever undertaken by any city of the 60,000 class on the North American continent.

LYCHINGS FEWER.

of the sheriff and his deputy. The second lynching occurred at Steele, N. D., where George Baker, charged with the murder of his wife and father-in-law was taken from the jail and hanged by a mob. The lynching was the first recorded in North Dakota in more than a decade.

The lynching in Wyoming was one of the most sensational of the year. Frank Wigfall, a negro who confessed to having made a criminal attack on Mrs. Esther Higgins, an aged woman known as the "prisoners' friend," was lynched by the convicts of the state penitentiary at Rawlins.

In the West Virginia lynching the victim was Walter Johnson, a negro accused of assaulting a young white girl in Mercer county.

California's lynching was out of the ordinary. It occurred on the desert, some 30 miles from the town of Mojave. The victim was an unknown negro accused of having attacked a six-year-old child. He was hanged by men alleged to be employed on the Los Angeles aqueduct.

The three negroes who fell victims to mob violence were Ann Boston, who murdered the wife of a planter at Pinehurst, Ga.; Mary Jackson, who was lynched in Panola county, Texas, for alleged complicity in the murder of a white man, and an unknown negroess who, together with three negroes, was hanged by a mob in Harris county, Georgia, for the murder of a farmer.

Tyler, Texas, furnished the only instance of the year where the victim was burned at the stake. On May 25 Dan Davis, a negro who had confessed to a criminal attack on a young white woman, was burned at the stake in one of the main streets of Tyler in the presence of a crowd of two thousand persons.

The foregoing record does not comprise cases of plain murder or cases where the victim was killed by a posse while resisting capture.

Fit His Case Exactly.

"When father was sick about six years ago he read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Tablets in the paper that fit his case exactly," writes Miss Margaret Campbell of Ft. Smith Ark. "He purchased a box of them and he has not been sick since. My sister had stomach trouble and was also benefited by them." Sold by all dealers.
