I do my own cutting and save $40 a week--a cutter's salary. I handle no shelf clothes, collar buttons or neckties, but devote entire time to high class tailoring. No other business causes a drain on our tailoring.

I have the best of workmen, who turn out garments in proper shape.

The dull season is near, and I intend keeping my men busy by giving substantial reduction to each customer. Our desire is to get acquainted with every person in this territory. Our business has been good—I want to make it larger. Every order you place with us is made right here in La Grande. No send-aways, or sweat-shop garments handled by us.

SPUD MARKET IS DEPRESSED

IDAHO HAS RATE ADVANTAGE OVER OREGON.

Cold Snap Would Give Temporary Opening to Shippers.

Grande Ronde potato shippers can see no bright spots on the trade horizon, if they list to the word from Portland. There is no demand at all from the California cities, and the southwest is supplied by Idaho and Colorado, which have the advantage over Oregon in lower freight rates. To compete with those state Oregon shippers would have to buy from farmers here at 25 or 30 cents a sack. All the western states had large potato crops, and there is no outlet for the Oregon surplus. The only possible opening in the future would be a cold snap, that would stop shipments from Colorado or Idaho. This would cause only a temporary shipping demand in Portland.

The onion market is also dragging, but after the turn of the year it is probable shipments to California will begin, and the north is also expected to be in the market for a few cars. Both of these items have vital bearing in this valley.
