POOR SEEK JAIL SHELTER

BEDS PROVIDED FOR THOSE WHO ARE STRANDED.

Many Character Not Smirched Find Shelter Under Chief's Hand.

That the city jail is not only a place to incarcerate violators of the law but also a lodging place for men who are "broke" and cannot "find the price" of a bed, will be gleaned from the fact that scarcely a night passes in which the chief of police is not asked to house some poor fellow unable to pay at the local hostelry. Last night six men put up at the city Bastille Inn and had a good sleep. This does not mean that all of them are worthless characters. On the contrary many of them are out of work and cannot find employment and have to resort to the charity of the city to keep from freezing. "Some of them have the price of a meal but a few dimes will not go very far, and the price of lodging would leave them high and dry when the noon whistle blows. If they invested their paltry sums in that way. After all it seems that a man will sleep anywhere as long as the elements are not too severe, and save his nickes for a bite to eat.

County Commissioner Welch says that so far many of the people have been extremely careless. Some would even go into the sick rooms and then go on to Haines to do their trading without taking the least precaution. There are 17 cases in the Muddy creek district and one in Haines and these are scattered through nearly as many families, so far there not being many families with more than one case. All of the patients are children, many of whom are seriously ill.

MANY CLAIMS "PROVEN UP"

WALLA WALLA PEOPLE ENTER LAND HOLDER CLASS.

Formula Required Oftentimes Scars Away Prospective Claimants

A few more people will now be able to say that they own land. Proof on timber and stone claims was made at the local land office by Wm. D. Church, a traveling salesman of Walla Walla to a tract in Grant county, and by Dr. Eugene Koester and his wife, each holding a separate claim. Attorney Corely of Pilot Rock filed on some Umatilla reservation land, and Fred E. York filed a homestead entry on a piece of land in the neighborhood of Medical Springs. Decatur Richardson of North Powder bought a tract of isolated land at public sale. Receiver Eberhard states that the process is not an easy one, when everything is said and done. In many instances the hardships are so severe as to scare off the land seeker. Many file on the claims but do not prove up on them, owing to adverse conditions.

SCARLET FEVER SPREADS.

Baker County Officials Take Steps to Stop Spread in That Section.

Action was taken by the county court today to stop the danger of spreading the scarlet fever in Baker county, says the Baker Herald. Commissioner W. J. Welch of Haines and Judge P. Basche appointed Albert Hornbeck as constable of the Haines vicinity and as members of the county board of health. They together with Dr. Carl G. Patterson, secretary appointed Dr. Roger Baschell of Haines as deputy county physician.

By this action the constable is to see that the present cases will be quarantined and that members of the family or neighbors will be required to stay away from the quarantined places. The chief object of appointing the constable for the place at this time is to guard against this trouble.

Some would even go into the sick rooms and then go on to Haines to do their trading without taking the least precaution. CARRIER FORCE ALL.

Three of the Corps III at the Same Time—Substitutes Working.

Three members of The Observer carrier force are incapacitated for work simultaneously this week and recruits are striving manfully to carry the evening paper to the proper patrons. Errors have occurred during the past few days but on the whole the uninitiated carriers are coping with their tasks well. David Johnson, George Ferguson and Arthur McGee are unable to carry their routes, and one of their substitutes is indisposed but has managed to get over the routes thus far. Vaccination is the cause of their inability to get about, their parents not wishing them exposed to stormy weather while undergoing the immunizing process.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLASSIFIED.

Women Working Over Eight Hours Are Not Amenable to the Statute.

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—Holding that the women's eight hour law does not apply to photography because it's an art and not a mechanical trade Superior Judge Sargent has reversed the conviction of Charles Bousson, a photographer, for working Miss Louise Hener nine hours a day.

"Lights and shadows render photography artistic," declared the judge, "and I don't believe the women's eight hour law applies to it."

REPORTS ARE EXAGGERATED.

Reported in Pendleton that La Grande Schools and Theatres Were Closed

Indicative of the untrue reports that have been circulated about La Grande is one from Pendleton in which it is positively stated that La Grande theatres and schools have been closed during the past few weeks. The East Oregonian makes this statement:

Pasco as well as La Grande is suffering from a smallpox epidemic and thus Pendleton is between two cities where the disease is on the rampage. Reports from Pasco are to the effect that there are at present twenty or more cases of smallpox in that city and that the schools have been closed to prevent a further spread.

The situation seems to be better now in La Grande than a week ago, according to reports, there being only two violent cases there now. Exaggerated reports of the prevalence of the disease in the Union county seat were circulated here although the situation was alarming enough to close the theaters, schools and other places of gathering.

Here in Pendleton there are no other cases than the two at the Phelps home reported.

Wilson Took Many Orders.

(Baker Democrat.)
Chief of Police Riley yesterday received a message from the publishers of the Technical World magazine to hold F. H. Wilson, the man arrested several days ago for taking subscriptions to various magazines without the proper credentials. Wilson took subscriptions to all standard magazines at greatly reduced prices and collected considerable money from different well known people, copies of whose receipts were found among the effects of Wilson.

He was quite a drinker and saved little of the money he collected. At times he was begging about the streets and on one occasion when he "budded into" a conversation in a saloon was given a black eye, and to hide the same he wore smoked glasses. He will be held pending advices from the companies he is alleged to have misrepresented.

IMPROVEMENTS IN THE 1913 INDIAN

Fastest--Sturdiest

The outstanding feature of the 1913 INDIAN is the CRADLE SPRING FRAME, fitted to all models. This is the most revolutionary and epoch-making departure from established systems of motorcycle spring devices. Nothing like it has ever before been attempted. Eighteen months of severe test and experimentation by our engineering department was devoted to the perfecting of this new device.

The CRADLE SPRING FRAME is, briefly, the application to the rear of the machine of the spring principle which has proved so successful during the past three years in connection with the front fork.

Extending back horizontally from the frame-joint cluster below the saddle, flanking the rear mud guard, are two seven-leaf Chrome Vanadium steel springs. The "C" shaped curls at the rear end of these springs are connected by stays to bell-cranks on which the rear axle is hung. The forward end of the rear fork has a hinge joint, which enables the wheel to yield to imperfections of road surface. All shocks are completely absorbed by the leaf springs. The rear wheel can go through almost any vertical motion without affecting the body of the machine. There is no "bottom" to this spring device.

On the roughest road the rider is conscious only of the smooth, forward gliding motion. The lightest or heaviest rider feels no jar and the life of the machine is greatly increased. The INDIAN MOTORCYCLE is now leafspring for and aft. This marks the first departure from the inefficient spiral spring system of yesterday.

New Style Rims—Single Clinch type, permitting the use of either 2 3/4 or 3-inch tires.

Larger Tires—ALL 1913 INDIANS are equipped with 2 3/4 inch tires, as against the 2 1/2 inch tires of 1912. The widening of forks, both fore and aft, also allows ample clearance for the use of anti-skid chains in addition to the larger tires.

Wider Mud Guards—With splashers to correspond affording complete protection in riding through oil or muddy roads.

Rear Chain Guard—Covering upper stretch of long chain, giving perfect protection to chain sprocket and band brake.

Luggage Carrier—New type, with tool bag at rear, fitted to all 1913 INDIAN models without extra charge. Advantageous for commercial, tourist, or general use.

Foot Boards—Fitted to regular 4 H. P. and 7 H. P. INDIANS for 1913, in addition to pedals. This feature gives the rider a choice of two comfortable riding positions, with complete control of the machine assured in each instance.

Foot Brake Lever—A lever close to the left foot rest, now operating Corbin improved band brake with same action as pedals.

Multiple Disc Clutch—Large size, as used on last year's 7 H. P. INDIANS, now fitted to all 1913 models.

Saddle—Improved INDIAN-Messenger type, affording the rider a lower and more comfortable position.

BIG 4 H. P. $220 TWO-SPEED, 4 H. P. $295
