

ROYAL

The most economical of all
Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is more economical than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of genuine baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or advertised and offered at a low price. Such are mixtures of unhealthful ingredients. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States the sale of alum baking powder is prohibited by law. Alum is a corrosive mineral acid, and physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label upon baking powders must show the ingredients.

Hoquiam Laying Much Bitulithic.

With fair weather coming on Hoquiam is actively engaged in street improvements.

Business conditions generally in Hoquiam are such as to warrant extensive work as indications point to a long period of increased prosperity and activity.

The intention of the council is to build carefully with permanency as well as first class streets at the present time as the chief object.

After making a careful study of paving materials bitulithic is being used extensively. Bitulithic has been found to be lasting and economical and especially easy on horses and automobiles.

Its past record in many northwestern cities shows it to be well suited to the climatic conditions of this section, which is a matter of importance in choosing paving. Adv.

'MONITOR' IS LOCAL BOOSTER

BOSTON RELIGIOUS PAPER GIVES PUBLICITY.

Christian Science Monthpiece Pictures La Grande, Oregon.

La Grande commercially is given exploitation in a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor, published at Boston and the official mouthpiece of the Christian Science church. In the issue of February 24, a half-tone business street scene is carried in the publication along with a concise summary of industries here. The publication was furnished the information by Mrs. Irene King, a prominent member of that church society in this city, and one of the many readers of the Monitor in this city.

Wm. Brown May Come.
J. H. Rudd of this city, state superintendent of missions in the Oregon Sunday schools, left this morning for Baker to attend a two-day conference of the Baker county Sunday school association. While there he will inspect the Y. M. C. A. there and also look after Epworth League matters. While there he will make an effort to close a date for the appearance in La Grande on Sunday, April 20, of William A. Brown, an international Sunday school worker of repute. Mr. Brown was a member of the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

Church notices for Sunday follow:

Maxims of Washington.
"Let your heart feel for the afflictions and distresses of every one."
"It is a maxim with me not to ask what under similar circumstances I would not grant."

"Be courteous to all, but intimate with few, and let those be well tried before you give them your confidence."
"I shall never attempt to palliate my own follies by exposing the error of another."

"I never wish to promise more than I have a moral certainty of performing."
"Every action in company ought to be with some sign of respect to those present."

Washington Birthday Game.
Here is a good game to play at a Washington's birthday party. It is akin to the donkey's tail, so popular years ago. Against a plain wall pin a sheet on which has been drawn with school crayons a large tree. From one limb is drawn a rope with a noose at the end. A pasteboard British soldier with red crape paper coat is given to each lady successively, and she is blindfolded and told to pin his neck as near the noose as possible. The spot where each one sticks the pin may be marked and numbered, and when all have tried the one coming nearest the noose is declared the winner.

Convindruma.
Why is a cautious man like a pin? Because his head prevents him from going too far.
What is the difference between a land surveyor and a scarf? One is agent for property, the other a proper tie for a gent.
When is a chair treated spitefully? When you have it caned simply because it cannot bear you.

A Valuable Wood.
Teak is one of the most expensive woods. It is extremely heavy and strong, and furniture made from it never wears out. It is said that an ancient eastern city was built entirely of teak. The name is East Indian.

How Sleep the Brave.
How sleep the brave who sink to rest By all their country's wishes blest! When spring, with dewy fingers cold, Returns to deck their hallowed mold She there shall dress a sweeter sod Than Fancy's feet have ever trod. —Coltina.

Gabe—Why do they say that the ghost walks on pay day?
Steve—Because that's the day our spirits rise. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

A mighty spineless cuss is he And always on the rack Who waits for opportunity To pat him on the back. —Detroit Free Press.
