La Grande Society

It is quite likely that La Grande's social circle will be enlarged during the coming spring season and that many functions held here will include Baker people in the invitation list. The strong friendly feeling between the two cities has in the past found an obstacle in the way of train service, but now that has been overcome to such an extent that the two communities can mingle in social matters, which doubtless will soon be started, and once started it will grow. Already the automobile clubs of the two places are getting in close touch and planning many events for the summer. The attitude of many La Grande people is that Baker people and people from this city should know each other better and an effort will be put forward to that end.

The presence of ladies in the Commercial club rooms Tuesday evening was a gladdening sight and the interior of the club, which heretofore had been patronized by men only, seemed a great deal more cheerful as the elevator in the Foley building regularly brought up its capacity of lady guests. The rooms were filled so that standing room only was to be had, to hear the splendid program prepared for the occasion which was the event of the Tuesday Musicales and given in honor of the Commercial club for tendering the use of the club rooms to this organization. Splendid representation was in attendance indicating that not only the Commercial club is a community proposition, but also is the Tuesday Musicales. The program carried high grade selections from the world's best authors and each number was handled in a way that presented positive proof of the musical ability in La Grande. Punch was served and after the program there was a general good time was indulged in. In the billiard room a number of the men contested for supremacy over the green tables, and withal it was a most enjoyable event. Secretary Humphreys of the Commercial club, in speaking of the evening's entertainment, expressed a delight at the new order of the board in turning the club rooms over to the ladies.

Mrs. T. J. Scroggin had charge of the arrangement of the program. Mrs. Franc Wilhelm and Mrs. E. Polack were in charge of the punch booth, with the assistance of several young ladies and to Mrs. E. C. Moore, president of the Musicales, fell the lot of thanking the Commercial club for the home which she did very graciously. Another open musical will be given the last Tuesday in March.

What will be a social event in the theatrical circles will begin Sunday night when the Wheeler Stock company open—at the Steward theatre for a several day's engagement. The Wheeler people come with the highest recommendation and the people are assured of some real artists in stock. It has been some time since "stock" was played in La Grande and the people will take advantage of the opportunity to hear their favorite actor or actress for several evenings in succession. Metta Chamberlain, the leading lady, is said to possess splendid ability, in fact to reach the class of a star.

Last Wednesday evening Miss Hatfield and Miss Tressie McMurray entertained the Epworth League of the Methodist church at a delightful social. A few minutes of bible study was followed by popular games and refreshments. Those present were: The Misses Vera Lefel, Thelma Lefel, Louise Benham, Rosa Sherman, Lucrece Wood, Holt, Eunice Bolton, Marguerite Winters, Klintworth, Moore, Lulu Counsell, Katie Counsell, Faye Milligan, May Day, Christine Wheatley, Miriam Wheatley, Elsie Cantrell, Edna Ellison, Hazel Richardson, Lucile Jarris, Mrs. Fyke, Noja Fee; Messrs. Rev. Fyke, Harvey Patton, Lester Little, Van Meter, Taylor, Ashman, W. Ashman, Neal Watson, John Fee, Wilbur Breakenridge, Jay Shaw, Scott Wheatley, E. R. Humphreys, Eugene Fyke, Albert Nelson, Homer Lefel and Mr. Bradley.

George W. Frazier's friends in La Grande will read of delight of his marriage in Portland a few days ago. While a businessman now with the firm of Frazier & Dillworth, East side men's furnisiers, Mr. Frazier was for several years a resident of La Grande and now owns about 1200 acres of land in this valley. He was very prominent in Washington high athletic, graduating from there with academic and athletic honors. Mrs. U. G. Keenan of this city has received detailed announcement of the wedding, the Frazier family being life time friends. Other relatives and immediate friends reside here.

The bride was Miss Emma I. Bayer of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Frazier have gone to California on a wedding tour.

The date and place of regular meeting of the Neighborhood club is on Tuesday afternoon, at their new club rooms in the Commercial club quarters. The study for the afternoon is: Oliver Wendell Holmes.

The M. B. A. lodge No. 1413, gave a social last night and after its regular meeting a short social session was held. The members retired to the ballroom where dancing and other amusements were in progress. All were served light refreshments and everyone present had a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. J. Y. Walnut entertained at her home on Seventh street Monday afternoon 23 youngsters in honor of her little son, Phillip's, fourth birthday. It was not a "skidoo" party although the number of little guests was 23. Games for the little ones were provided and they all had a fine time.

The Women of Woodcraft held their regular meeting Tuesday evening Feb. 25, with a good attendance and initiation. After lodge a sale of hand made articles was held followed by dancing and refreshments.

Miss Estta Foley entertained the Millem club girls and their gentleman friends Wednesday evening at the Foley grill. A three-course luncheon was served in a splendid manner by the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pattison delightfully entertained the Sans Souci club this week at their home in West La Grande. Honors were won by C. S. Dunn and Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp.

Iris Camp No. 2980, Royal Neighbors of America, had a very fine meeting this afternoon. There were 17 initiations. After this work all partook of a delicious banquet which was served in the banquet hall.

The Solree club recently organized held its first party last evening at the I. O. O. F. hall. The event was marked by a very pleasant evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Snodgrass were host and hostess to the Pincoc club membership last Tuesday evening at their home on Washington avenue.

Honors were won by Lloyd Scriber.

Mrs. McMurray entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church this week.

Mrs. M. K. Hall was hostess to the afternoon section of the Kaffee Klatch yesterday.

WHEELER PLAYERS POPULAR

Pendleton Loud in Praise for Company Coming Here Tomorrow.

With Pendleton sorry to have them leave, the Wheeler players will arrive in La Grande tomorrow at 9:30 to open their week's stand at the Steward tomorrow night.

The following from the Pendleton Live Wire shows that the Wheeler Players will give La Grande people a real treat when they open here Sunday night.

The Wheeler players certainly want some in "Going Some" at the Oregon theatre last night when a packed house saw Rex Beach's rattling comedy on college life and western broncho busting played with a finish that marks this aggregation as one of the best road companies of the season."
