Pimples Source of Great Danger

May be Means of Absorbing Disease Germs in Most Unexpected Manner.

Bid Farewell to All Blood and Skin Diseases.

The research laboratory of The Swift Specific Co. has collected a vast amount of information regarding the spread of blood diseases. In thousands of instances the most virulent types have been the result of coming in contact with disease germs in public places, and the apparently insignificant pimple has been the cause. It spreads with astonishing rapidity, often infecting the entire system in a few days.

It is fortunate, however, that there is a remedy to cope quickly and thoroughly with such a condition, and thanks to the energy of its producers the famous S. S. S. may now be had at almost any drug store in the civilized world.

This preparation stands alone among specific remedies as a blood purifier. It is somewhat revolutionary in its composition, since it accomplishes all that was ever claimed for mercury, iodides, arsenic and other destructive mineral drugs, and yet it is absolutely a purely vegetable product. There are more cases of articular rheumatism, locomotor ataxia, paresis, neuritis and similar diseases resultant from the use of minerals than from disease germs direct. These facts are brought out in a highly interesting book compiled by the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is mailed free, together with a special letter of advice to all who are struggling with a blood disease.

Get a $1.00 bottle of S. S. S. to-day of your druggist. It will surprise you with its wonderful action in the blood.

Early Beds.

The beds of the ancients were piles of skins. The first beds resembling those used in modern times were made of rushes and later of straw. The use of feathers in making beds has been attributed to the Romans, and Elagabalus (Heliogabalus) is said to have used an air cushion for a pillow in 218. Air beds were frequently used during the sixteenth century. Feather beds were largely used during the reign of Henry VIII. of England.

Corrected.

The teacher had written on the blackboard the sentence, "The toast was drank in silence," and turned to her class for them to discover the mistake.

Little Bennie Sheridan waved his hand frantically and, going to the board, scrawled the correction, "The toast was ate in silence."—Everybody's.

How She Knew.

"I knew you were going to propose to me tonight, Jack."

"How did you do it?"

"Because mamma left the room so quickly after your arrival. She is one of the most discerning women you ever saw."—Fun.

More Than Lucky.

"Brown's a lucky dog."

"What's he been doing now?"

"You know that $1,000 he inherited a year ago?"

"Yes."

"Well, he still has it."—Detroit Free Press.

To Escape the Storms.

Many, many storms there are that lie low and hug the ground, and the way to escape them is to go up the mountainside and get higher than they are.—Henry Ward Beecher.

COUNTY ROAD NOW BLOCKED

NATURAL POND BASIN NEAR ALICEL FILLS.

Women in Hack Have Trouble Last Night—Deal Creek Is up.

First consequences of deep snow and the forerunner of high water has come. Between the Pierce spur and Alicel the Sandridge road sinks into a natural lake basin and every spring there is more or less trouble there, but this year the ancient duck pond is filled with water to a menacing degree. Last evening a hack, carrying some women and children, had grief getting through and Road Supervisor Campbell was called out this morning. However, there is no method of draining the place and it is doubtful if anything can be done with the pool until the natural disappearance comes. There has also been a little trouble with streams in the north end of the county but these are mere forerunners of what is expected to come later.

Deal creek is roaring quite lustily today and continued thaw in the mountains will soon put that stream in the torrent class. Until very unusual proportions are attained it will do no damage to property along First street where it has a course under the West side sidewalk.

What a Shark Eats.

When a twelve and a half foot shark caught in Mauritius was cut open a dog, a goat and a large collection of bones of animals were found inside. The shark was caught with a two inch line from a twenty foot open boat and was hauled to the surface after a desperate struggle.

A Valuable Toy.

One of the most famous toys in history was a bright stone that in 1867 a Dutch farmer found some Boer children using as a plaything. The farmer sent the stone to Cape Town for examination, and the result was the discovery of the diamond fields of South Africa. And the child's plaything found its way to the Paris exhibition, where it was disposed of for the sum of $2,500.

Metallic Sponges.

The metallic sponge of M. Hannover, a Dane, has been described to the French Academy of Sciences as an alloy of lead and antimony, prepared in a sponge-like mass inclosing air space of varying size. Use for it is found as an absorbent of oils, resins and similar substances.

Wealth in Bulgaria.

Wealth is more evenly distributed in Bulgaria than in any other European state. Poverty, according to an authority, does not exist among the Bulgarians.

Half Masting a Flag.

When the flag is to be half masted it is first run up to the top of the staff and then lowered to half mast. At sunset it is again hoisted to the top and then lowered to the ground. Never is a flag lowered directly from half mast, nor is the ensign ever displayed at night on a fort except when actually under siege.
