Look to Your Plumbing.

You know what happens in a house in which the plumbing is in poor condition—everybody in the house is liable to contract typhoid or some other fever. The digestive organs perform the same functions in the human body as the plumbing does for the house, and they should be kept in first class condition all the time. If you have any trouble with your digestion take Chamberlain's Tablets and you are certain to get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen, of Telluride, Colorado, who have been visiting relatives here for two weeks, left this morning for Portland, Seattle and other coast points.

Mrs. C. E. Moore and daughter, Mrs. Gebru's, went to Alice this morning to visit the Rood family.

Dr. Fromm, of Alaska, is visiting friends near Alice for a few days.

F. D. Halsten was a passenger this morning for Wallowa to spend a day with his brother, Ben Halsten, who is in the furniture business in that city.

A. L. Shaw, contest manager for the Lyon-Taylor Contest company left this morning for Sumpter. Mr. Shaw was to have been in La Grande last week but owing to illness of his wife at Boise was detained until yesterday.

Mary Williams, nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. Fred Williams in Connordale who is sick with rheumatism, is improving.

LA HOMA SISTERS IN COMPLETE CHANGE OF ACT.

Two Reel Picture Shown Wednesday and Thursday.

The La Homa Sisters present a complete change of act tonight, introducing classical and Spanish songs and dances. Cyrena La Homa, who has the distinction of being the youngest classical dancer in the world recently won praise from Adeline Genes, the world's greatest dancer.

Tomorrow and Thursday will be present a true feature picture, "An Adventure on the Mexican Border," two complete reels. Also a fine Vitagraph, featuring Florence Turner, an Edison comedy and the La Homa Sisters.

Repeating the Performance.

When Uncle Ben brought a box of candy for little Beth he wanted to surprise her with it.

"I think somebody wants you in the next room, Elizabeth," he said.

While the little girl was out of the room Uncle Ben placed the candy on a chair where she would be sure to see it when she returned.

"Oh, goodie!" cried the delighted little miss when she espied the candy.

"Where did it come from?"

"It must have come there while you were out of the room," said Uncle Ben.

"You stay right here, uncle," enthusiastically exclaimed Beth. "I'm going out of the room again!"—Youngtown Telegram.

On Marriage.

Tell me not in mournful accents Marriage is an empty dream And the soul is dead that's married And men are not what they seem.

Life is real, life is earnest, Single blessedness a fth, Dust thou art, to dust returneth, Has been spoken of the rib.

Not enjoyment and not sorrow Is our destined end or way, We must live that each tomorrow Brings us nearer marriage day.

In the world's broad field of battle, In the bivouac of life, Be not like dumb driven cattle; Be a hero, a wife.

Let us then be up and doing, With our hearts on a trumpet set, Still contending, still pursuing, Till we all a husband get. —Portland Oregonian.

A Fair Exchange.

"People say you've been sheriff too long, Jim."

"I expect I have. They also say you oughter step down and let somebody else be postmaster."

"I admit I've been postmaster long enough."

"Well, after this term s'pose we exchange places."—Pittsburgh Post.

Always With Us.

I sing my rune about the prune. To praise it is not treason. This festive fruit tries hard to suit And always is in season.

The melon goes, and I suppose That higher than a steepie Would prices reach for pear and peach. They are not for poor people.

I banker not for apricot Or plum, and for good reason. I have that boon, the festive prune, Which always is in season. —Kansas City Journal.

Good Resort.

Foosler on the Links—who has already lost two balls in the long grass as the result of some atrociously bad shots, is now vainly searching for No. 3 and is not in the sweetest of tempers, to long suffering caddies—Thought you'd come out to look after the ball? Caddy (with some bent) says, "An' I thought you'd come out to play golf!" —New York Journal.
