All Candidates Get the Benefit of County Business Votes

Final Decision of Merchants and Lyon-Taylor Co. Gives 230,000 Votes Obtained Through County Business to Each and Every Contestant

Makes a Clean Cut Start for All. General Satisfaction Expressed on Every Side.

The second count of ballots voted in the Lyon-Taylor contest on the handsome 40 horse power automobile and other prizes has been made, and it shows that interest has been general and activity in vote getting has increased. After earnest deliberation over the question of county business being voted in this contest, it has been decided to give to each candidate 230,000 votes, which is the amount of the county's business already voted, and in the future no county business can be voted unless by an agreement of all members of the county court and then the votes must be deposited by a member of the court only. The same rule will apply to city business and a resolution of the council must be passed empowering some member of the council to cast the votes as directed by the resolution. This overcomes any possible objection, and in all probability neither the county nor city will cast any votes.
