Whitney Conditions Are Investigated.

Baker, April 18.--(Special) -- An investigation into the moral conditions of the town of Whitney by the grand jury, which took a recess yesterday, is not very complimentary to that municipality and its officials, for while no indictments were returned the grand jury reported to the court that affairs at Whitney were in a deplorable condition. A number of witnesses were examined and it was established beyond doubt, according to the report, that there is little attention paid in Whitney as regards Sunday liquor selling, gambling and other vices.

No indictments were returned, according to the jury, for the reason that probably convictions would not result until further testimony could be secured. A copy of the report will be sent to the city council of Whitney so that the officials may know what is going on and that the conditions there are under investigation.
