GENERAL REPAIRING.....

Don't heat the whole house to heat your irons. It isn't necessary.

Hot weather ironing with old fashioned irons is about as hard and exhausting a task as falls to the lot of the average woman. The sensible way is to use an electric iron. It can be connected to any light socket, so you can iron in the coolest room in the house, or on the porch if you like.

Electric irons make ironing a pleasure. No waiting for irons to heat; no changing irons; no drudgery. Your ironing is done in comfort and in 1-3 to 1-2 less time. And another important feature, electric ironing is actually cheaper. All our irons are guaranteed.

DAIRY HERD DISEASE BAD

STRANGE PHASES DESCRIBED BY STATE OFFICIAL.

How to Detect and Prevent Latest Dairy Herd Malady.

(From Rural Spirit.)

In our issue of April 23, reference was made to the epidemic of the latest disease among dairy herds in the Redlands district of Clackamas county. The prevalence of the disease and its profit-reducing and discouraging effect on the dairy industry was discovered by Dairy Inspector Fullenweider, who reported to Dairy Commissioner Mickle. Mr. Mickle took immediate steps toward quarantining and stamping out the disease. When Dr. Morel, state veterinarian, visited the district he prepared a bulletin which, because it gives valuable information showing how the disease may be recognized, treated and preventive measures taken, and because the disease is also reported to be in other localities, we publish in full. The bulletin says: "This disease is also called 'Infectious Vaginal Catarrh of Cattle,' which is a chronic infectious disease, principally characterized by a peculiar nodule formation on the catarrhal swollen vaginal membrane. Animals affected with this disease are impregnated with difficulty, abort easily and as a consequence remain sterile. There is also a reduction in the nutrition and milk production which causes considerable loss in cattle breeding. It is of bacteriological origin and is transmitted during the act of copulation, by direct contact between healthy and diseased animals, by straw contaminated with vaginal discharge, by stable utensils, by the hands of attendants while handling vulva or vaginas, etc. The incubation period is from two to five days.

"The symptoms start with a swelling of the vulva, diffuse spots or streaked reddening, further swelling, formation of folds and increased sensitiveness of the vaginal membrane, when a mucopurulent discharge collects on the surface. "Smooth nodules at first dark red and easily bleeding appear on the mucous membrane of the vestibule of the vagina. Frequent desire of urination, straining for action of the bowels, swinging of the tail, shifting of the feet, rubbing, kicking against the abdomen and arching the back. After three or four weeks the process passes into a chronic stage, the nodules become paler, the discharge may disappear and the inflammatory symptoms subside. "The chance of recovery is favorable if early and energetic treatment is given. Recovery of fresh cases may respond to treatment in from two to four weeks. Observe cleanliness and disinfection. Use the following: Lysol 2 per cent; potassium permanganate, 1 per cent. The following prescription may also prove to be beneficial: Boracic acid, alum, zinc sulphate, equal parts; one tablespoonful to each gallon of warm water. All of the ingredients to be used as douches. As preventive measure: (1) Segregate healthy animals from infected ones; (2) Disinfect repeatedly and thoroughly disinfect stables (especially stalls); also disinfect all premises supposed to be infected. (3) Drain gutters. (4) Prevent absolutely affected cows and bulls from copulating during the duration of the Health a Factor in Success.

The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are for sale by all dealers.

SPEEDING UP THE BASE RUNNER—

That's what the Cork Center ball is doing. Do you realize how fast you travel in a fifth of a second? A good runner gets to first in about four seconds. He covers over four feet in one-fifth of a second. The Cork Center ball is 10 to 15 per cent livelier than the old style rubber core ball, big leaguers say. Dope it out for yourself. You will find that, using the Cork Center ball, you will get "on" oftener than when using the old style rubber core ball. Is your team in doubt about what kind of a uniform to select? Then write to Spalding's and get a book of samples that show the exact goods. If you don't need uniforms, then Spalding's catalogue shows pictures and prices of bats, mauls, gloves, mitts and everything used in the game.
