

Don't heat the whole house to heat your irons. It isn't necessary.

Hot weather ironing with old fashioned irons is about as hard and exhausting a task as falls to the lot of the average woman. The sensible way is to use an electric iron. It can be connected to any light socket, so you can iron in the coolest room in the house, or on the porch if you like.

Electric irons make ironing a pleasure. No waiting for irons to heat; no changing irons; no drudgery. Your ironing is done in comfort and in 1-3 to 1-2 less time. And another important feature, Electric ironing is actually cheaper. All our irons are guaranteed.

BAD INNING MARS MATINEE

SEVEN GOOD INNINGS OFFSET
BY ONE BAD ONE.

Braves Take Last Two Games, the Series Staying Here.

Weird baseball was dished out along the right of way of the Western Tri-state yesterday and that weird performance at the local ball grounds was less woozy than any of the others. For seven innings the Spuds and Braves performed in gilded fashion giving the big Sunday audience a run for their money and then Mountain fanned up a fire and filled the balloon with gaseous matters and, when properly cocked and primed, ready for the elegant ascension in the eighth, his ump cut the guide ropes and we were off for an aerial navigation journey that took only the pitchers up and left the Spuds fielders on terra firma playing good ball the while. One hates to pass the first seven innings—they were good and fast and exact duplicates of the nine innings of the day before when just as good ball as La Grande will see for months was reeled off with Yakima winning in the eighth inning.

Anyway, La Grande scored first yesterday. In the third, Corbin doubled, and Beck's drive to Ford was booted, Corbin scoring. Beck came home after stealing second when Druhot singled. In the first of the fifth the Braves scored a couplet, but not without intervention by Starkell. Ford walked when to appearances, at any rate, he was pickled at the home pan, but Stanley had previously singled so that when Jansen, who jumps into the calcium frequently when jumping is good, laced out a pippin of a two bagger and the score was tied. From then on both teams worried about without scoring until the eighth, mighty good support helping Mountain at times. In the eighth the aforementioned ascension on high took place and Yakima forced seven runs over—nay Mountain forced one and Druhot one by walking batters when the stations were crowded with apple pickers. Worse luck, Starkell drew criticism when he called balls and strikes while the said bases were full and, whether or not he deserves it, he is blamed for the size of the score. His balls and strike judgment is debatable but his base decision par excellent. While in the midst of a terrible mad scene, Mountain withdrew in Druhot's favor but even the ex-St. Louis star wasn't equal to the occasion and forced one run in while Engel, Gordon and Jansen singled off him. Let's not tarry on that disastrous session. The dark brown tastes in the fans' mouths was partially washed away by the splendid rally made by the Spuds in the last of the eighth and ninth but there were only loud flashes that died in the pan. Gordon musn't be overlooked. He had the junk on the ball that the Spuds couldn't straighten out. His support was nowhere near as good as the La Grande variety but the truth is, he didn't need much support.

There is one thing about the way La Grande won the series however, and that the way she played ball. The weak hearted who predict a great slaughter this week from Walla Walla better guess again. Ball again. Ball like that that of Saturday and seven innings yesterday will win from any of them King's catch on a high and wide foul was one of the best performances of the day, forgetting not Druhot's running catch early in the game.

Saturday's game was a beauty. Bill Reid beat La Grande in the eighth inning when with Jansen on with a pass, and Fuller's sacrifice, he rapped out a two bagger scoring the only run of the day. There were innumerable stars Saturday, not the least of which was Corbin's grab of a Texas leaguer that was going for a score. La Grande played the better ball and should have won for twice she had men at the plate, but out by inches only. In the ninth men were on second and third but the needed hit didn't materialize. However, win or lose it was a good game. In Saturday's game Starkell was likewise disputed, and though panned by both teams, was panned the loudest in the ninth when La Grande has a chance to win.

The score for Saturday's game:
YAKIMA.

"And is your father a bootblack too?" he asked the boy.
"No, sir," replied the bootblack, "my father is a farmer."

"Ah!" said the professional humorist, reaching for his notebook. "He believes in making hay while the sun shines."
